Prohibition, Religious Freedom, and Human Rights: Regulating Traditional Drug Use Beatriz Caiuby Labate, Clancy Cavnar, 2014-03-25 This book addresses the use and regulation of traditional drugs such as peyote ayahuasca coca leaf cannabis khat and Salvia divinorum The uses of these substances can often be found at the intersection of diverse areas of life including politics medicine shamanism religion aesthetics knowledge transmission socialization and celebration The collection analyzes how some of these psychoactive plants have been progressively incorporated and regulated in developed Western societies by both national legislation and by the United Nations Drug Conventions It focuses mainly but not only on the debates in court cases around the world involving the claim of religious use and the legal definitions of religion It further touches upon issues of human rights and cognitive liberty as they relate to the consumption of drugs While this collection emphasizes certain uses of psychoactive substances in different cultures and historical periods it is also useful for thinking about the consumption of drugs in general in contemporary societies The cultural and informal controls discussed here represent alternatives to the current merely prohibitionist policies which are linked to the spread of illicit and violent markets By addressing the disputes involved in the regulation of traditional drug use this volume reflects on notions such as origin place authenticity and tradition thereby relating drug policy to broader social science debates For God, Country, and Coca-Cola Mark Pendergrast, 2013-05-14

For God Country and Coca Cola is the unauthorized history of the great American soft drink and the company that makes it From its origins as a patent medicine in Reconstruction Atlanta through its rise as the dominant consumer beverage of the American century the story of Coke is as unique tasty and effervescent as the drink itself With vivid portraits of the entrepreneurs who founded the company and of the colorful cast of hustlers swindlers ad men and con men who have made Coca Cola the most recognized trademark in the world this is business history at its best in fact The Real Thing Drugs in American Society Nancy E.
