A World Without Hunger Archie Davies, 2022-11-17 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library as part of the Opening the Future project with COPIM. Drawing on the rich personal archive of the geographer Josu de Castro, this book tells a new history of geography by following one of the twentieth century's most influential and creative Brazilian intellectuals from the estuarine city of Recife to the halls of the UN, the chambers of Brasília and exile amid the political fervor of the universities of Paris in 1968. This is the first English language book on the absorbing life of Josu de Castro. It follows modern anticolonial geographical thought in formation, re-reading Castro's metabolic humanist geography as the anchor of a utopian practice of freedom, the demand for a world without hunger. Starting from Castro's life and work, the book offers new takes on the history of nutrition, translation in geography, Brazilian modernist art and practice in post-war internationalism, the radical geographical intellectual, the problem of the region in the Brazilian Northeast, and the birth of political ecology and critical environmental thought. At once a biographical intellectual history and a work of geographical theory, this innovative book tells the story of 20th-century geography from a new angle and in new company.

Aquifer Systems Management: Darcy's Legacy in a World of Impending Water Shortage Laurence Chery, Ghislain de Marsily, 2007-10-18 By 2050 the demand for water to sustain world agriculture will increase by seventy-five per cent in order to feed an estimated nine billion inhabitants. Increased amounts of water will be required for irrigation and for industrial and domestic use. Natural ecosystems will be threatened by the expansion of agricultural land and by a reduction in water availability while climate change will exacerbate the situation. Management of available resources, particularly groundwater, will become more critical and aquifers will need to be managed for the benefit of all. These selected papers were first presented at the International Association of Hydrogeologists, Dijon 2006, and are divided into six themes: large aquifers, resource assessment, large aquifers, water salinity and evolution, karstic and carbonate aquifer systems, geothermal aquifer systems, aquifer contamination studies, and aquifer monitoring systems and management. The volume also includes a short biography of Henry Darcy and illustrates his contribution to science. Five invited contributions describe modern methods for estimating the hydraulic conductivity of aquifers.
