David Schultz, 2013-01-16 Mary Grace Soccio: My writing could not please this kindhearted woman, no matter how hard I tried. Although Gifted and Talented seventh grade math posed no problem for me, the same was not true for Mrs. Soccio's English class. I was frustrated that my first assignment only netted me a C. I worked harder, making revision after revision, a concept I had never really put much faith in before. At last, I produced an essay that seemed the apex of what I was capable of writing. Although the topic of that essay is now lost to my memory, the grade I received was not a B. The best I could do was a B. The realization sank in that maybe I was not such a good writer. In those days, my youthful hubris did not understand about capacity building. In other words, being challenged would result in my intellectual growth, an academic restatement of Nietzsche's: "What does not destroy me makes me stronger." Consequently, I asked to be withdrawn from Gifted and Talented English in the eighth grade.
