The Other Digital China Jing Wang, 2019-12-10 A scholar and activist tells the story of change makers operating within the Chinese Communist system whose ideas of social action necessarily differ from those dominant in Western liberal societies The Chinese government has increased digital censorship under Xi Jinping Why Because online activism works it is perceived as a threat in halls of power In The Other Digital China Jing Wang a scholar at MIT and an activist in China shatters the view that citizens of nonliberal societies are either brainwashed or complicit either imprisoned for speaking out or paralyzed by fear Instead Wang shows the impact of a less confrontational kind of activism Whereas Westerners tend to equate action with open criticism and street revolutions Chinese activists are building an invisible and quiet coalition to bring incremental progress to their society Many Chinese change makers practice nonconfrontational activism They prefer to walk around obstacles rather than break through them tactfully navigating between what is lawful and what is illegitimate The Other Digital China describes this massive gray zone where NGOs digital entrepreneurs university students IT companies like Tencent and Sina and tech communities operate They study the policy winds in Beijing devising ways to press their case without antagonizing a regime where taboo terms fluctuate at different moments What emerges is an ever expanding networked activism on a grand scale Under extreme ideological constraints the majority of Chinese activists opt for neither revolution nor inertia They share a mentality common in China rules are meant to be bent if not resisted Annual Report Zambia. National Museums Board, On Education and Values George David Miller, Conrad P. Pritscher, 1995 The educationally emaciated suffering from intellectual and spiritual bilumia binge on facts and linear thinking The imprimatur of clarity and the infatuation with quantification are accoutrements of this affliction often characterized by apathy Chaos is introduced as the wrecking ball for the hierarchical skyscrapers that overcrowd the educational skyline The type of chaos proposed can be explained by the neutron bomb analogy Chaos destroys all that is inessential but leaves standing the essential and promotes holistic rather than compartmentalized learning The authors further contend that one insight is better than a myriad of facts in being vigilant of serendipity that the value aspect of facts is as important as the facts themselves Such beliefs form a foundation for educational holism Our goal is to popularize philosophy in the same way science has become popular without a mass understanding Empiricism is criticized for creating the theoretical basis for fragmentation forming the basis for an island ideology by excising essence Founded on inessential empirical ideology efforts to teach multiculturalism merely exacerbate difference promote alienation and discourage tolerance Within the framework of value hierarchies we favor tolerance is not understood as open armed acceptance of just anything but the forbearance of an evil for the promise of greater good Essence cannot be removed even in the idiosyncratic we can find the essential In the absence of chaotic methodology critical thinking remains an apolitical amoral and atemporal process displaced from social and political reality We propose a critical thinking that is not legalistic but is action oriented The pipe dream for education is a political moral temporal and decompartmentalized critical thinking that disseminates philosophy across the curriculum Those who risk becoming pariahs and nomads are essential to the rejuvenation of the educational system ECOS ,1996
