Gillespie, 2012-04-17 Archaeology and anthropology have come a long way in the past half century and the 1950s thinking concerning the relationship between the two is increasingly considered irrelevant However the placement of archaeology within the discipline of anthropology has always been uneasy and was just as much a half century and more ago as it is now Is archaeology only now on the brink of divorce after decades of pleas for mutual respect and cooperation have finally proven inadequate Watson 1995 Is separation the only alternative left to sustain and further archaeology and to finally shake off a second class status to sociocultural anthropology that archaeologists have long contested Willey and Sabloff 1993 152 In what sense can we profess that archaeology is still anthropology This volume evaluates the reasons proffered for separation against those in favor of maintaining the identity and practice of archaeologists as anthropologists Arguments for the separation of archaeology from the discipline of which it has been a part for over a century take several different forms weighing various intellectual factors historical methodological and theoretical Recent changes in the practice of archaeology and in the organization of professional societies must also be considered
