Educators' Learning from Lesson Study Akihiko Takahashi, Thomas McDougal, Shelley Friedkin, Tad Watanabe, 2022-06-30 Offering voices from the field the first of its kind outside of Japan this guide to teaching and learning elementary mathematics highlights real case examples from teachers and educators who share what they have learned through Lesson Study The teachers reports provide vivid examples of new insights and ideas about mathematics about pedagogy and lesson design about student learning and about professional collaboration gained through Lesson Study Each report includes an abbreviated plan of the specific research lesson that led to the new insights which readers can draw from to replicate the powerful learning in their own community The case examples of this book are from Lesson Study in mathematics elementary to lower secondary grade levels focused on what teachers and educators have learned about improving mathematics teaching and learning but many ideas from each report can be applied to other subjects and different grade levels This unique book will be an excellent resource for mathematics teachers in training and practice who seek to improve mathematics teaching and learning in their own and others classrooms including researchers and school administrators who lead professional development

The Work of Mathematics Teacher Educators Kathleen Lynch-Davis, Robin L. Rider, 2015-10-01 Originally published in 2004 A major focus of teacher education is the development of preservice teachers However it should not be the only focus of those who work in teacher education Educating inservice teachers is equally important and the conversation among those involved in mathematics teacher education needs to include discussion of this group as well This conversation also highlights a need for professional development for teacher educators and research on the development of teacher educators This monograph discusses issues in educating all of these groups of individuals in an effort to continue the conversation among those involved in mathematics teacher education

Thinking Through Mathematics Edward A. Silver, Jeremy Kilpatrick, Beth Schlesinger, Dennie Wolf, 1990 This document focuses on how mathematics teaching and learning can be improved by developing more powerful approaches to connect thinking and mathematics It proposes changing perspectives on what it means to learn and do mathematics and explores how these perspectives can be incorporated into the teaching of secondary school mathematics Chapter 1 offers a view of mathematics as emerging largely from individual and social activity rather than from textbooks worksheets and tradition The learner is depicted as someone who actively constructs meaning instead of passively receiving it Chapter 2 considers how a greater emphasis on communication discussion debate recording and writing stimulates and uncovers students learning and thinking and leads to a deeper understanding by both teachers and students Chapter 3 explores how teachers might encourage greater inquiry and communication in a secondary school class by making minor but thought provoking changes in ordinary problems and situations Finally chapter 4 gives some practical advice on transforming the mathematics classroom into a place where students are expected not only to absorb and consume mathematics but also to produce and think about it Contains 17 references and 17 figures MKR 100 Commonly Asked Questions in Math Class Alfred S.
