China Edward Rhoads recounts his childhood and early teenage years during the Sino Japanese War and the early postwar years Rhoads came from a biracial family His father was an American professor while his Chinese mother was a typist and stenographer In the late 1930s and the 1940s the Rhoads family lived through the turbulent years in southern China and Hong Kong The book follows Rhoads childhood in Guangzhou his family s evacuation to Hong Kong his father s internment and repatriation to the United States and his and his mother s flight to Free China He recalls his reunion with family members in northern Guangdong Province in 1943 their retreat to China s wartime capital of Chongqing where his father worked for the American government and how they returned to Guangzhou after the war The Rhoads family then witnessed the socioeconomic recovery in the city and the regime change in 1949 The book ends with their departure from China to the United States in 1951 a year and a half after the Communist revolution The book fills an important gap in the scholarship by examining the impact of the Sino Japanese War in southern China from the perspective of one family Rhoads reveals that the war in this region while often neglected by scholars was in fact no less turbulent than it was in northern and central China He combines autobiography with serious historical research to reconstruct the lives of his family consulting a large number of archival documents private correspondence and scholarly literature to produce a rare study that is both scholarly and accessible This book is a very timely reminder that one should look at the experience of China during the Second Sino Japanese War and the Second World War from a regional perspective in order to understand the diverse historical experience of the people from different geographical ethnic cultural and social backgrounds Chi man Kwong Hong Kong Baptist University A pleasure to read and of compelling interest Edward Rhoads book explores the more benign side of the foreign influence in modern China the introduction of modern educational institutions The intriguing lens through which we look is his biracial family their multiple flights across southern China as refugees escaping war and their eventual expulsion from China Stephen Davies The University of Hong Kong Standard Catalog for High School Libraries , 1929 The 1st ed

The Logic of Racial Practice Brock Bahler, 2021-02-08 The title of this collection The Logic of Racial Practice pays homage to the work of Pierre Bourdieu who coined the term habitus to name the pretheoretical embodied dispositions that orient our social interactions and meaningfully frame our lived experience The language of habit uniquely accounts for not only how we are unreflectively conditioned by our social environments but also how we responsibly choose to enact our habits and can change them Hence this collection of essays edited by Brock Bahler explores how white supremacy produces a racialized modality by which we live as embodied beings arguing that race and racism is performative habituated and enacted We do not regularly have to think about race since race is a praxis producing embodied habits that have become sedimented into our ways of being in the world and that instill within us racialized and racist dispositions postures and bodily comportments that inform how we interact with others The construction of race produces a particular bodily formation in which we are shaped to viscerally perceive through a racialized lens images words activities and events without any self reflective conceptualization and which we perpetuate throughout our day to day choices The contributors argue that eradicating racism in our society requires unlearning these racialized habitus and cultivating new anti racist habits
