Service Led Design Jane Saunders,2017-03-02 For many years now both private and public sector organizations have been dealing with the challenge of how best to improve corporate performance HR has not escaped this scrutiny The very same businesses that have spent recent years cost cutting restructuring and streamlining are putting the pressure on the HR overhead to prove that it is not just a cost centre but a function that provides added value through alignment to business needs and aspirations The traditional transaction based HR service must however still be delivered Understanding how to combine a renewed strategic focus with effective delivery of transactional and administrative services is the key to HR's next generation of service delivery models. The authors' work with HR functions includes an established set of service design criteria and an approach that differentiates between a successful implementation and what can be a costly backward step that only serves to alienate the business. They show how any prospective HR transformation should consider five fundamental issues in the service design phase to align the HR approach to the business strategy. These issues are critical to ensuring a fit for purpose HR function that can measure and demonstrate the value it adds.

About The Gower HR Transformation Series

The Human Resources function faces a continuing challenge to its role and purpose in many organizations; it has suffered from serious underrepresentation at strategic board level. Yet faced with the challenges of globalism, the need to innovate, manage knowledge, attract and retain the very best employees, organizations need an HR function that can lead from the front. The process of transforming the function is complex and rarely linear. It involves designing a function that can manage its generalist and specialist roles with equal skills. The Gower HR Transformation Series will help it. It uses a blend of conceptual frameworks, practical advice and global case study examples to cover each of the main elements of the HR transformation process. The books in the series follow a standard format to make them easy to read and reference. Together, the titles create a definitive guide from one of the leading specialist HR transformation consultancies, an organization that has been involved in HR transformation for clients as diverse as Bombardier, Transportation Marks, Spencer, Barnardo's, Oxfam, Schroders, UnitedHealth Group, Nestlé, BP, HM Prison Service, Transport for London and Vodafone.

Bulletin Labor Standards Bureau, 1935 Bulletin, 1935 Planning, Implementing and Evaluating Health Promotion Programs with Navigate Advantage Access

James F. McKenzie, Brad L. Neiger, Rosemary Thackeray, 2022-07-18

This book is written for students who are enrolled in their first professional course in health promotion program planning. It is designed to help them understand and develop the skills necessary to carry out program planning regardless of the setting. This book is unique among the health promotion planning textbooks on the market in that it provides readers with both theoretical and practical information.

Building a New Performance Vision Thomas J. LaBonte, 2023-05-26

Despite their best efforts, many organizations find it difficult to shake the silo mentality that stands in the way of real strides in performance improvement. Building a New Performance Vision addresses this issue head-on by arguing that training, human resources, organizational development, quality, information technology, and knowledge management professionals should all be playing on the same HPI team. Each of these functions spends most of its energy promoting individual agendas and not the organization's business and performance needs. The cure for this unhappy state of affairs is the creation of a single unified HPI process and function that brings together these disparate groups under the banner of shared business goals. Readers are offered a clear path to accomplish this organizational feat through the use of step-by-step instructions, tools, tips, and job aids.
