Juki,2016-06-02 The Forgotten People Saleem Badat,2013-01-29 The apartheid state employed many weapons against its opponents imprisonment banning detention assassination and banishment In a practice reminiscent of Tsarist and Soviet Russia a large number of enemies of the state were banished to remote areas far from their homes communities and followers Here their existence became a slow torture of the soul a kind of social death This is the first study of an important but hitherto neglected group of opponents of apartheid set in a global historical and comparative perspective It looks at the reasons why people were banished their lives in banishment and the efforts of a remarkable group of activists led by Helen Joseph to assist them New Scientist ,1987 Rethinking Judicial Power in Papua New Guinea Bal Kama,2024-08-19

This book examines the role and nature of the judiciary in Papua New Guinea PNG the first comprehensive study since the country s independence in 1975 It challenges the traditional view of the judiciary as solely a legal entity arguing for its broader social and political functions Critiquing assumptions inherited from British and Australian colonial thinking it discusses how decolonisation has redefined judicial power enabling courts to have a more transformative role Introducing transformative constitutionalism into Australian Pacific legal thinking the book argues that PNG has a transformative constitution defined by its intent for reform extensive Charter of Rights and a liberal judiciary features not found in other Pacific constitutions Given the region s challenges such as corruption political instability and climate change the book advocates for a more proactive role for the judiciary It proposes a re evaluation of the classical tripartite doctrine of separation of powers advocating for a quadripartite model in PNG where the judiciary has a broader reformative function and the independent constitutional institutions constitute a fourth arm of government This work makes important contributions to understandings of judicial power and constitutional law as well as other fields including comparative constitutional studies legal history and decolonial scholarship Paradise Lost ,2022-06-13 Paradise Lost Race and Racism in Post apartheid South Africa is about the continuing salience of race and persistence of racism in post apartheid South Africa The chapters in the volume illustrate the multiple ways in which race and racism are manifested and propose various strategies to confront racial inequality racism and the power structure that underpins it while exploring how through a renewed commitment to a non racial society apartheid racial categories can be put under erasure at exactly the time they are being reinforced Spear Paul S. Landau,2022-06-07 Spanning the years just before and just after Nelson Mandela s 1962 arrest this entirely fresh history of Umkhonto we Sizwe MK or Spear of the Nation and its revolutionary milieu brings to life the period in which Mandela and his comrades fought South Africa s apartheid regime not only with words and protests but also with bombs and fire The Education Gazette of the Province of the Cape of Good Hope Cape of Good Hope (South Africa).

Education Trust, 2004 v 3 The third volume in the series examines the role of anti apartheid movements around the world The global anti apartheid movement was very successful in creating awareness of the liberation struggle in South Africa and in contributing to the downfall of the apartheid government This volume in 2 parts brings together analyses which in the main are written by activist scholars with deep roots in the movements and organizations they are writing about Decolonising Journalism Education in South Africa Ms Zubeida Jaffer ,Prof. Ylva Rodny-Gumede ,Dr Mvuso Ponono ,Prof. Colin Chasi ,2021-12-20 With 342 years of colonialism and apartheid in South Africa a book of this calibre is essential to contribute to scholarly debates on the decolonisation of the media After the democratic dispensation in 1994 there was a narrow pursuit of transformation and media freedom while neglecting decolonisation patriarchal tendencies and the plight of black women journalists who are often vilified while discharging their duties It was two decades after democracy that the RhodesMustFall movement which later evolved into FeesMustFall movement reignited debates on decoloniality in the academia Moreover the book is published during the second wave of FeesMustFall student protests and the demand for decolonised free education is inevitable as no permanent solution to student funding crisis was crafted In the same vein the book advocates for decolonised pedagogy in universities including journalism curriculum That ownership of the media is still skewed towards white and with only few black companies gradually joining the industry also brings into doubt media freedom editorial independence ethics and integrity among media practitioners Therefore the decoloniality movement seeks to confront these structural challenges head on via dialogue to ensure the integrity of the journalism profession Decolonising journalism in South Africa is published at a time in which journalism serves a watchdog and a critique of a democratic government and needs to follow a bottom up social justice approach and become a voice to the voiceless Therefore this book seeks to revolutionise the media in a way that even the language of reporting of certain issues needs to be changed to a balanced kind of reporting characterised by principles of no fear or favour

COVID-19 and Gender-Based Violence in Zimbabwe Isaiah Munyiswa, Pauline Mateveke, Ezra Chitando, 2024-12-02 This book investigates the experiences of women in Zimbabwe facing COVID 19 and gender based violence arguing that the insights from this extremely tough period could be used as a springboard for positive legal cultural and policy changes In 2020 COVID 19 caught the world by surprise and often the socio cultural factors impacting the treatment and care of those infected by the virus were not fully considered In Zimbabwe the socially constructed role of women as caregivers left them particularly vulnerable Not only this but COVID 19 lockdowns coincided with particularly high levels of sexual exploitation and gender based violence with women again comprising the majority of victims Authors in this book analyse the pandemic experiences of women in Zimbabwe both in the workplace or in the home with the hope of fostering positive cultural change and sensitising policy makers to the need for legislation that protects women in moments of disasters The important lessons and discussion points raised by this book will be important to policymakers both within Zimbabwe and beyond and to researchers working on gender public health philosophy sociology and politics in Africa
