Q. 1. (A) Read the following extract and answer the questions given below : [15.]

Everybody who knew young David Hartman thought he was riding for a fall. Even his own family realized that the time to call a halt to Dave's impossible plan was that September night in 1968, the night before he first went off to college. The four Hartmans were lingering at the dinner table in their Havertown, (U.S.A.), home when David, who was blind, broached an old subject with a new intensity. "Father," he said, "tell me honestly. Do you think I can ever be a doctor?"

Fred Hartman, a bank officer and a very practical man, stalled before replying. It was one thing not to pamper Dave, quite another to let him go on building up for a tragic let-down. What medical college would accept a blind student? The time had come to set David straight. But, wondered the father, how could he give a flat no to a boy like Dave? How could he clamp a ceiling on his

Knowledge-building Karl Maton, Susan Hood, Suellen Shay, 2015-10-08 Education and knowledge have never been more important to society yet research is segmented by approach methodology or topic Legitimation Code Theory or LCT extends and integrates insights from Pierre Bourdieu and Basil Bernstein to offer a framework for research and practice that overcomes segmentalism This book shows how LCT can be used to build knowledge about education and society Comprising original papers by an international and multidisciplinary group of scholars Knowledge building offers the first primer in this fast growing approach Through case studies of major research projects Part I provides practical insights into how LCT can be used to build knowledge by enabling dialogue between theory and data in qualitative research bringing together quantitative and qualitative methodologies in mixed methods research relating theory and practice in praxis conducting interdisciplinary studies with systemic functional linguistics Part II offers a series of studies of pressing issues facing knowledge building in education and beyond encompassing diverse subject areas including physics English cultural studies music and design educational sites schooling vocational education and higher education practices of research curriculum pedagogy and assessment both education and informal learning contexts such as museums and masonic lodges Carefully sequenced and interrelated these chapters form a coherent collection that gives a unique insight into one of the most thought provoking and innovative ways of building knowledge about knowledge building in education and society to have emerged this century This book is essential reading for all serious students and scholars of education sociology and linguistics The Oxford Compendium of Hope Anthony Scioli, Steven C. van den Heuvel, 2025-12-22 The Oxford Compendium of Hope presents an authoritative and comprehensive guide to hope with five main aims provide a historical context for the interdisciplinary study of hope condense and organize seminal writings on hope document the state of research on hope across 12 scholarly areas prioritize scholarship with generative power and cross disciplinary potential and anchor itself in a unifying philosophical meta perspective on hope Central to the volume's purpose is the editor's third culture approach to the study of hope encompassing both a scientific and a humanities based examination Chapter authors hailing from psychology philosophy health studies anthropology and other disciplines examine hope from their unique vantage points Engaging Curriculum Bill Green, 2017-09-18 Explicitly linking curriculum inquiry to English education via recurring themes of representation democracy and knowledge this book is a call for both researchers and practitioners to engage with curriculum explicitly and deliberatively as both a concept and a question The approach is broadly conceptual and constitutes an exercise in theoretical and philosophical inquiry While deeply informed by North American debates and developments this book offers a distinctive counterpoint and a strategically ex centric perspective being equally informed by the curriculum scene in Australia as well as the UK and elsewhere Divided into two sections this book first addresses matters of general curriculum inquiry while the second turns more specifically to English teaching and to associated questions of language literacy and literature in L1 education Green brings the two together through a critical examination of the Australian national curriculum especially in its implications and challenges for English teaching and with due regard for the project of transnational curriculum inquiry

The Battle of Carham Neil McGuigan, Alex Woolf, 2018-11-08 Very little is known about the battle of Carham fought between the Scots and Northumbrians in 1018 The leaders were probably Mael Coluim II king of Scotland and Uhtred of Bamburgh earl or ealdorman in Northumbria The outcome of the battle was a victory for the Scots seen by some as a pivotal event in the expansion of the Scottish kingdom the demise of Northumbria and the Scottish conquest of Lothian The battle also removed a potentially significant source of resistance to the recent conqueror of England Cnut This collection of essays by a range of subject specialists explores the battle in its context bringing new understanding of this important and controversial historical event Topics covered include Anglo Scottish relations the political character and ecclesiastical organisation of the Northumbrian territory ruled by Uhtred material from the Chronicles and other historical records that brings the era to light and the archaeological and sculptural landscape of the tenth and eleventh century Tweed basin where the battle took place New Statesman and Nation ,1950 Cumulated Index to the Books ,1928 Australian Books in Print ,1987 1986 HSC English Expression ,1986
