2016 Nursing Training Forms Gauteng:

African Economic Development Christopher Cramer, John Sender, Arkebe Oqubay, 2020 This book challenges conventional wisdoms about economic performance and possible policies for economic development in African countries Its starting point is the striking variation in African economic performance Unevenness and inequalities form a central fact of African economic experiences The authors highlight not only differences between countries but also variations within countries differences often organized around distinctions of gender class and ethnic identity For example neo natal mortality and school dropout have been reduced particularly for some classes of women in some areas of Africa Horticultural and agribusiness exports have grown far more rapidly in some countries than in others These variations and many others point to opportunities for changing performance reducing inequalities learning from other policy experiences and escaping the ties of structure and the legacies of a colonial past The book rejects teleological illusions and Eurocentric prejudice but it does pay close attention to the results of policy in more industrialized parts of the world Seeing the contradictions of capitalism for what they are fundamental and enduring may help policy officials protect themselves against the misleading idea that development can be expected to be a smooth linear process or that it would be were certain impediments suddenly removed The authors criticize a wide range of orthodox and heterodox economists especially for their cavalier attitude to evidence Drawing on their own decades of research and policy experience they combine careful use of available evidence from a range of African countries with political economy insights mainly derived from Kalecki Kaldor and Hirschman to make the policy case for specific types of public sector investment

Transformational Leadership Styles, Management Strategies, and Communication for Global Leaders Roache, Darcia Ann Marie, 2023-08-31 The impact of transformational leadership styles management strategies and communication for organizational effectiveness and employee performance within organizations cannot be overemphasized Leadership as a concept has evolved over the years based on situations practices and change management approaches in organizations The evolution of transformational leadership in organizations is imperative to examine in order to motivate and encourage others to collectively support and work to achieve organizational effectiveness or vision and mission Leadership needs a paradigm shift to influence opportunities and challenges in organizations such as organizational behavior motivation communication and management functions Transformational Leadership Styles Management Strategies and Communication for Global Leaders aims to provide relevant theoretical conceptual procedural and the latest empirical research findings frameworks that critically examine the areas of leadership leadership styles management studies and communication for leaders globally It is designed for multi sectoral interests in business and educational organizations chief executive officers executive members team leaders industry leaders human resource directors personnel leadership and management leaders and practitioners

Health Literacy in Medicines Use and Pharmacy Ahmed Awaisu, Emad Eldin Munsour, Parisa Aslani, Rabia Hussain, Zaheer-Ud-Din Babar, 2024-11-27 Health Literacy

in Medicines Use and Pharmacy A Definitive Guide highlights issues related to the medication literacy from the context of pharmacist and other healthcare professionals There is a lack of adequate educational resources and textbooks on pharmacy health literacy This book provides a clear explanation of medication literacy presents different tools to assess health literacy readability and comprehensibility of written medicine information WMI elaborates on different approaches to develop customized and patient friendly WMI and assists in the global effort for harmonization and availability of quality WMI Written by experts in medical communication Health Literacy in Medicines Use and Pharmacy will help pharmacists other health professionals educators and regulators who may be ill equipped to develop customized education material and to provide effective medication literacy information especially for patients with low health literacy Focuses on applying health literacy specifically within pharmacy and medicine use context leading to a compilation of important content about medication literacy Empowers healthcare professionals with the necessary knowledge about medication literacy Provides different approaches to develop customized and patient friendly written medicines information including using pictograms in medication instructions Highlights the use of information and digital health technology in medication literacy including mHealth applications wearable devices educational videos and gamification strategies Care of Older Persons Mala Kapur Shankardass,2024-10-23 This book explores the implications and significant ethical social economic and health challenges that an ageing world population presents It provides valuable insights on concerns related to providing organizing planning and managing care for older persons in both formal and informal settings As the number of older persons increases rapidly around the globe caring for them is a very important aspect of all ageing and aged societies While in most countries the care of older persons is provided informally by family members the changing social scene family structures and work and employment patterns are leading many nations to create provisions for formal care through institutions or paid services of caregivers This book offers perspectives on formal and informal care from countries such as Japan the Netherlands the USA India South Africa and Poland among others The essays in this book underline a rights based approach and focus on ethical social economic health and legal aspects of care as they pertain to the universal phenomena of ageing as well as the specific demographic and epidemiological realities of the selected countries They discuss concerns such as long term care provisions catering to the needs of people affected by dementia providing residential care taking the needs of family care providers into account the growing requirement for paid care workers and channelizing training of both skilled and semi skilled care providers to suit the needs of older people This volume would be of interest to scholars and those working in the fields of sociology health studies age and ageing psychology social work medical sciences nursing and public policy It will also be useful to NGO sector workers administrators as well as grassroots workers involved with the care of older persons The Politics of Potential Michelle Pentecost,2024-01-12 The first one thousand days of human life or the period between conception and age two is one of the most pivotal periods of human development Optimizing nutrition during this time not only prevents childhood malnutrition but also determines future health and potential The Politics of Potential examines early life interventions in the first one thousand days of life in South Africa drawing on fieldwork from international conferences government offices health care facilities and the everyday lives of fifteen women and their families in Cape Town Michelle Pentecost explores various aspects of a politics of potential a term that underlines the first one thousand days concept and its effects on clinical care and the lives of childbearing women in South Africa Why was the First One Thousand Days project so readily adopted by South Africa and many other countries Pentecost not only explores this question but also discusses the science of intergenerational transmissions of health disease and human capital and how this constitutes new forms of intergenerational responsibility The women who are the target of first one thousand days interventions are cast as both vulnerable and responsible for the health of future generations such that despite its history intergenerational responsibility in South Africa remains entrenched in powerfully gendered and racialized ways Geographies of Health and Development Rachel Bezner Kerr, Isaac Luginaah, 2016-03-03 The geographies of health and development is an emerging sub discipline tying in with many of the conceptual theoretical and practical components of other disciplines working in health health care economics and international development Spatially and theoretically grounded in geography this collection offers a fresh perspective on the dialectic relationships between health and development Health problems in a developing context take on much higher rates of prevalence as a result of the varied cultural structural and economic vulnerabilities of the people they impact This book begins by exploring some of the circumstances surrounding the distinctive health inequities currently facing many developing countries including malaria maternal mortality and HIV AIDS This is followed by a discussion of how matters of physical access and human resource issues and perhaps most importantly the challenges of financing together shape the access and utilization of health care Examining how the environment interacts to influence the health of the people that live there the next section includes discussion around challenges of food in security and the importance of clean and uncontaminated water for health Finally the book explores the influence of globalization on health specifically within the urban environment against the backdrop of global health policy The Lady Apprentices Ruth Pomeranz, 1973
