How Real Is Race? Carol C. Mukhopadhyay,Rosemary Henze,Yolanda T. Moses,2025-02-26 Biologically speaking there is no such thing as race Yet this seems to contradict the experiences of people in the United States and other countries where racial classification is used daily by individuals and institutions Race still matters whether in wealth accumulation educational achievement health the legal system or in personal safety How can race not be real when we experience its effects every day Mukhopadhyay Henze and Moses systematically deconstruct the myth of race as biology and address the reality of race as a cultural invention drawing on biocultural historical and cross cultural anthropological perspectives In doing so they shed light on the intricate interplay among race biology culture power and stratification Part I The Fallacy of Race as Biology unravels the myth that races are biologically valid divisions of humanity Part II Culture Creates Race explores race as a social construction the emergence of the racial worldview as ideological justification for inequality and how social processes especially restrictions on interracial sex and marriage maintained visible markers of racial hierarchy Part III Contemporary Issues examines current manifestations of racial stratification including the educational achievement gap health disparities and how the language of race embodies and reinforces a racial worldview New to this Edition New Chapter 11 Unpacking the Health Consequences of Racial Stratification explores the continuing impacts of the racial worldview on race related health disparities using the COVID 19 pandemic maternal health and weathering and exposure to environmental toxins as case studies New Chapter 12 Dismantling the Racial World View explores racial ideology including language and offers alternative approaches to racial language dilemmas Updated and expanded discussion of human evolution includes contemporary critiques and alternative scenarios of long standing models of human evolution and emphasizes our collective African roots Updated and expanded coverage of genomics DNA epigenetic processes and the enormous human variability at the molecular level all challenging nature versus nurture models of how we become who we are New data on immigrants languages religions socio economic and regional racial ethnic patterns interracial marriage and other trends explores contemporary diversity in the United States and suggests traditional racial ideology and categories are becoming obsolete Race, Monogamy, and Other Lies They Told You, Second Edition

Agustín Fuentes,2022-05-10 A compelling takedown of prevailing myths about human behavior updated and expanded to meet the current moment There are three major myths of human nature humans are divided into biological races humans are naturally aggressive and men and women are wholly different in behavior desires and wiring Race Monogamy and Other Lies They Told You counters these pervasive and pernicious myths about human behavior Agustín Fuentes tackles misconceptions about what race aggression and sex really mean for humans and incorporates an accessible understanding of culture genetics and evolution that requires us to dispose of notions of nature or nurture Presenting scientific evidence from diverse fields including anthropology biology and psychology Fuentes devises a myth busting toolkit to dismantle persistent fallacies about the validity of biological races the innateness of aggression and violence and the nature of monogamy sex and gender This revised and expanded edition provides up to date references data and analyses and addresses new topics including the popularity of home DNA testing kits and the lies behind incel culture the resurgence of racist nativist thinking and the internet's influence in promoting bad science and a broader understanding of the diversity of sex and gender Research
