Nursing Informatics Marion J. Ball, Kathryn J. Hannah, Ulla Gerdin Jelger, Hans Peterson, 2013-11-11 Nursing like other health related professions is information intensive The quality of care a patient receives is based on the soundness of judgment exercised by the health care team Underlying sound judgment is up to date information Unless nurses have access to accurate and pertinent information the care being rendered will not be of the highest standard What is required is not necessarily more rapid and efficient information services Modern technology can process immense amounts of data in the blink of an eye What we in the health professions need are information systems that are more intelligent systems that can integrate information from many sources systems that analyze and synthesize information and display it so that it may be applied directly in patient care in other words information that answers a question or even gives practical advice In order to accomplish such objectives work is needed to establish the scientific and theoretical basis for the use of computing and information systems by health professionals This is the research component In addition there is the need for continued development and evaluation of practical information systems

Educational Change towards Problem Based Learning: An Organizational Perspective Huichun Li, 2013-11-29 As a promising educational approach PBL Problem Based Learning has been adopted by an increasing number of higher education institutions worldwide to replace the traditional lectured based educational approach However the organizational change towards PBL is not easy for higher education institutions especially for those with a long history of Lecture Based Learning Therefore it is necessary to investigate the challenges and obstacles for higher education institutions which are implementing PBL In order to address the research concern this book involves in an intensive exploration of two universities which are transforming their traditional educational approaches to PBL Specifically this book is concerned with how managers staff members and students interpret PBL and its implementation It reveals that the challenges for implementing PBL are closely linked to organizational members conception of PBL social learning and motivation at the university The conclusions are specified as firstly the organizational members understanding of PBL and social learning are quite diverse and some of them are not consistent with the managerial attempts They may create huge tensions or chaos at the university depending on which strategy the managers have employed Further the organizational members understandings of PBL are more concerned with teaching and curriculum design rather than learning which should be highlighted within PBL context Besides staff members have to struggle between different roles due to the complexity of the university in modern society and some tasks such as researching will distract them from participating in teaching activities and thus undermine PBL implementation Finally the university has to make reflections on how to keep a balance between the use of normative approaches to guarantee organizational effectiveness and the intention of giving staff more freedom to make innovations and create new possibilities
