The Economy of Roman Religion Andrew Wilson, Nick Ray, Angela Trentacoste, 2023 This interdisciplinary edited volume presents twelve papers by Roman historians and archaeologists discussing the interconnected relationship between religion and the Roman economy over the period c 500 BC to AD 350 The connection between Roman religion and the economy has largely been ignored in work on the Roman economy but this volume explores the many complex ways in which economic and religious thinking and activities were interwoven from individuals to institutions The broad geographic and chronological scope of the volume engages with a notable variety of evidence epigraphic archaeological historical papyrological and zooarchaeological In addition to providing case studies that draw from the rich archaeological documentary and epigraphic evidence the volume also explores the different and sometimes divergent pictures offered by these sources from discrepancies in the cost of religious buildings to the tensions between piety and ostentatious donation The edited collection thus bridges economic social and religious themes The volume provides a view of a society in which religion had a central role in economic activity on an institutional to individual scale The volume allows an evaluation of impact of that activity from both financial and social viewpoints providing a new perspective on Roman religion a perspective to which a wide range of archaeological and documentary evidence from animal bone to coins and building costs has contributed As a result this volume not only provides new information on the economy of Roman religion it also proposes new ways of looking at existing bodies of evidence
