enlightenment The Big Christmas Basket enriches one's understanding of the season through the dialogue it fosters among its diverse array of authors promising insights into the universal yet deeply personal celebration of Christmas How Did You Get To Be Mexican Kevin Johnson, 2010-06-21 During an interview for a faculty position a senior professor asked Kevin Johnson bluntly How did you get to be a Mexican And a young woman at a Harvard Law School dinner party inquired Are you one of those people whose high school friends are all dead from gangs and stuff The son of a Mexican American mother and an Anglo father Professor Johnson has spent his life in the borderlands between racial identities In this insightful book he uses his experiences as a mixed Latino Anglo to examine issues of diversity assimilation race relations and affirmative action in the contemporary United States Johnson also grew up in the borderlands between classes He spent his childhood with his mother first on welfare and then with a racist working class stepfather As an adolescent he moved to his father's home in a predominantly upper middle class suburb His educational experiences too extend from a racially mixed elementary school to an all white high school and from Berkeley to Harvard Law School From this vantage point he analyzes the intersection of race and class in the United States This book looks not just at the question Who is a Latino but also at the question of where persons of mixed Anglo Latino heritage fit into the racial dynamics of the United States Professor Johnson's mother was an ardent assimilationist who classified herself as Spanish her failure to become a part of middle America led her into depression and eventually mental illness Her son has woven not just her experiences and his own but also those of friends and relatives into a complex and moving story of one white brown man's search for identity Parliamentary Papers
