

Chapter 1

Managerial Accounting and Cost Concepts

Questions

1-1 The three major types of product costs in a manufacturing company are direct materials, direct labor, and manufacturing overhead.

1-2

- a. Direct materials are an integral part of a finished product and their costs can be conveniently traced to it.
- b. Indirect materials are generally small items of material such as glue and nails. They may be an integral part of a finished product but their costs can be traced to the product only at great cost or inconvenience.
- c. Direct labor consists of labor costs that can be easily traced to particular products. Direct labor is also called "touch labor."
- d. Indirect labor consists of the labor costs of janitors, supervisors, materials handlers, and other factory workers that cannot be conveniently traced to particular products. These labor costs are incurred to support production, but the workers involved do not directly work on the product.
- e. Manufacturing overhead includes all manufacturing costs except direct materials and direct labor. Consequently, manufacturing overhead includes indirect materials and indirect labor as well as other manufacturing costs.

1-3 A product cost is any cost involved in purchasing or manufacturing goods. In the case of manufactured goods, these costs consist of direct materials, direct labor, and manufacturing overhead. A period cost is a cost that is taken directly to the income statement as an expense in the period in which it is incurred.

1-4

- a. Variable cost: The variable cost per unit is constant, but total variable cost changes in direct proportion to changes in volume.
- b. Fixed cost: The total fixed cost is constant within the relevant range. The average fixed cost per unit varies inversely with changes in volume.
- c. Mixed cost: A mixed cost contains both variable and fixed cost elements.

1-5

- a. Unit fixed costs decrease as the activity level increases.
- b. Unit variable costs remain constant as the activity level increases.
- c. Total fixed costs remain constant as the activity level increases.
- d. Total variable costs increase as the activity level increases.

1-6

- a. Cost behavior: Cost behavior refers to the way in which costs change in response to changes in a measure of activity such as sales volume, production volume, or orders processed.
- b. Relevant range: The relevant range is the range of activity within which assumptions about variable and fixed cost behavior are valid.

1-7 An activity base is a measure of whatever causes the incurrence of a variable cost. Examples of activity bases include units produced, units sold, letters typed, beds in a hospital, meals served in a cafe, service calls made, etc.

1-8 The linear assumption is reasonably valid providing that the cost formula is used only within the relevant range.

Answers For Managerial Accounting Mcgraw Hill:

Ebook: Managerial Accounting - Global Edition Ronald Hilton, David Platt, 2014-09-16 We are pleased to present this Global Edition which has been developed specifically to acquaint students of business with the fundamental tools of managerial accounting and to promote their understanding of the dramatic ways in which business is changing. The emphasis is on teaching students to use accounting information to best manage an organization. Each chapter is written around a realistic business or focus company that guides the reader through the topics of that chapter. There is significant coverage of contemporary topics such as activity based costing, target costing, the value chain, customer profitability analysis and throughput costing while also including traditional topics such as job order costing, budgeting and performance evaluation. Many of the real world examples in the Management Accounting Practice boxes have been revised and updated to make them more current and several new examples have been added. This Global Edition has been adapted to meet the needs of courses outside the United States and does not align with the instructor and student resources available with the U.S. edition.
