Bester, Justin van der Merwe, 2020-05-13 Contemporary Issues in South African Military Psychology is a well timed extremely thought provoking imperative particular to the African context and deals with a highly contemporary issue within the people management and the management studies fields specifically in the military field and context This is specifically of importance as military psychology is a behavioural science that combines theory and practical application Prof Karel Stanz University of Pretoria The Economics of Defense Industry

Thomas-Durell Young,2023-10-17 This book on the economics of defence industry assesses a series of historical and contemporary case studies that consistently demonstrate the need for governments to recognise and thereafter factor the financial needs of a narrow industrial sector that is capital intensive technologically advanced and that requires a highly skilled labour force Since the end of the cold war Western governments have systematically reduced financial support to their domestic defence industry and have seemingly ignored planning and funding industrial mobilisation In all cases government policy has been to encourage industries to consolidate capacity to become financially viable in a sector that has seen diminished demand The 2022 Russian invasion of Ukraine has caused Western governments to reassess their previous assumptions Efforts to increase industrial capacity have been met with the iron laws of economics whereby businesses need to show return on investments The chapters in this volume posit that efforts to rationalise industrial capacity and innovation to meet short term financial efficiencies inevitably results in limited expensive and long delays in increased production in times of international crisis This book serves as an essential guide for academics researchers and students interested in defence economics industrial economics international relations and industrial policy The chapters in this book were originally published in various issues of Defense Security Analysis Tear Gas Anna Feigenbaum,2017-11-07 One hundred years ago

French troops fired tear gas grenades into German trenches Designed to force people out from behind barricades and trenches tear gas causes burning of the eyes and skin tearing and gagging Chemical weapons are now banned from war zones But today tear gas has become the most commonly used form of less lethal police force In 2011 the year that protests exploded from the Arab Spring to Occupy Wall Street tear gas sales tripled Most tear gas is produced in the United States and many images of protestors in Tahrir Square showed tear gas canisters with Made in USA printed on them while Britain continues to sell tear gas to countries on its own human rights blacklist An engrossing century spanning narrative Tear Gas is the first history of this weapon and takes us from military labs and chemical weapons expos to union assemblies and protest camps drawing on declassified reports and witness testimonies to show how policing with poison came to be Product Fit and Sizing Kathleen M. Robinette,Daisy Veitch,Sandra Alemany,Karen Bredenkamp,2024-09-30 In this book for the first time the complexity of assessing fit and using fittings in the product design process is addressed from a scientific and systems engineering perspective It includes methods to represent the anthropometry of the target market good practices to develop protocols for more reliable and consistent fit testing methods for developing and maintaining a fit database comprehensive statistical analyses needed for fit and sizing analysis and instructions for selecting and modeling cases for new product development Product Fit and Sizing Sustainable Product Evaluation Engineering and Design offers step by step instructions for the evaluation engineering and design of existing and new products and includes real world examples of mass produced apparel head wearables and footwear products It also explains how to develop a sustainable fit standard for fit and sizing continuity for all styles across all seasons and iterations This book is intended for industry professionals and undergraduate and graduate education to prepare students for design and engineering jobs For organizations that purchase uniforms or protective equipment and apparel it also provides instructions for purchasing professionals to evaluate the suitability of wearable products for their population The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Aerial Visibilities Dennis Zuev, Gary Bratchford, 2025-05-02 This book brings together diverse perspectives from a range of geographic settings and feature contributions from some of the key thinkers in the field It explores various facets of the relationship between verticality and visibility offering insights that deepen the understanding of this dynamic dyad This volume brings the sky and air into the view of visual sociology and argues that there is more to the sky than phenomenological and geopolitical dimensions The chapters use the common thread of aerial visibilities to emphasise the need to rethink the aerial in terms of complex relations between humans technological artefacts and devices vertical superstructures and non human others This rethinking helps unsettle notions of aerial biopolitics The chapters in this book foreground the visual to ask to what end the image of or efforts to create images through vertical registers shapes our understanding of the vertical world the communities and users this vertical world engages or impacts upon This book will be of interest to students and researchers in the fields of visual sociology geography urban studies media studies anthropology and cultural studies as well as those exploring the intersection of technology politics and spatial theory The chapters in this book were originally published in Visual Studies
