events The prevalence of PTSD in these individuals has been estimated to be between 15 and 30 percent Journalists who work as war correspondents are at higher risk of being injured killed or kidnapped Their lifetime prevalence of PTSD which can be as high as 30 percent reflects their lack of access to support and PTSD treatment options Transit and train operators are frequently exposed to physical threats and witness suicide incidents such as person under train events Exposure to these traumatic and threatening circumstances can be a daily or weekly occurrence Bus drivers are more prone to PTSD because they have more direct contact with the general public than train drivers locked in secure train cabs In these high risk professions the incidence of trauma declines when policies are in place to debrief victims give victims immediate access to counseling and screen for individuals at high risk of having adverse reactions to traumatic conditions
