Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6 - 12 Randall E. Groth, 2012-08-10 A journey into the vibrant and intriguing world of mathematics education Teaching Mathematics in Grades 6 12 explores how research in mathematics education can inform teaching practice in grades 6 12 The author shows secondary mathematics teachers the value of being a researcher in the classroom by constantly experimenting with methods for developing students mathematical thinking and then connecting this research to practices that enhance students understanding of the material The chapters in Part I introduce secondary teachers to the field of mathematics education with cross cutting issues that apply to teaching and learning in all mathematics content areas The chapters in Part II are devoted to specific mathematics content strands and describe how students think about mathematical concepts The goal of the text is to have secondary math teachers gain a deeper understanding of the types of mathematical knowledge their students bring to grade 6 12 classrooms and how students thinking may develop in response to different teaching strategies

Modern Mathematics Dirk De Bock, 2023-03-08 The international New Math developments between about 1950 through 1980 are regarded by many mathematics educators and education historians as the most historically important development in curricula of the twentieth century It attracted the attention of local and international politicians of teachers and of parents and influenced the teaching and learning of mathematics at all levels kindergarten to college graduate in many nations After garnering much initial support it began to attract criticism But as Bill

Jacob and the late Jerry Becker show in Chapter 17 some of the effects became entrenched This volume edited by Professor Dirk De Bock of Belgium provides an outstanding overview of the New Math modern mathematics movement Chapter authors provide exceptionally high quality analyses of the rise of the movement and of subsequent developments within a range of nations The first few chapters show how the initial leadership came from mathematicians in European nations and in the United States of America The background leaders in Europe were Caleb Gattegno and members of a mysterious group of mainly French pure mathematicians who since the 1930s had published under the name of a fictitious Nicolas Bourbaki In the United States there emerged during the 1950s various attempts to improve U S mathematics curricula and teaching especially in secondary schools and colleges This side of the story climaxed in 1957 when the Soviet Union succeeded in launching Sputnik the first satellite Undoubtedly this is a landmark publication in education The foreword was written by Professor Bob Moon one of a few other scholars to have written on the New Math from an international perspective The final epilogue chapter by Professor Geert Vanpaemel a historian draws together the overall thrust of the volume and makes links with the general history of curriculum development especially in science education including recent globalization trends

A First Course in the Sporadic SICs Blake C. Stacey, 2021-05-31 This book focuses on the Symmetric Informationally Complete quantum measurements SICs in dimensions 2 and 3 along with one set of SICs in dimension 8 These objects stand out in ways that have earned them the moniker of sporadic SICs By some standards they are more approachable than the other known SICs while by others they are simply atypical The author forays into quantum information theory using them as examples and the author explores their connections with other exceptional objects like the Leech lattice and integral octonions The sporadic SICs take readers from the classification of finite simple groups to Bell's theorem and the discovery that hidden variables cannot explain away quantum uncertainty While no one department teaches every subject to which the sporadic SICs pertain the topic is approachable without too much background knowledge The book includes exercises suitable for an elective at the graduate or advanced undergraduate level Learning Independently Paul
