Shadow Simon Unwin,2020-02-18 Each of these Analysing Architecture Notebooks is devoted to a particular theme in understanding the rich and varied workings of architecture They can be thought of as addenda to the foundation volume Analysing Architecture which first appeared in 1997 and has subsequently been enlarged in three further editions Examining these extra themes as a series of Notebooks rather than as additional chapters in future editions allows greater space for more detailed exploration of a wider variety of examples whilst avoiding the risk of the original book becoming unwieldy Shadows may be insubstantial but they are nevertheless an important element in architecture In prehistoric times we sought shade as a refuge from the hot sun and chilling rain Through history architects have used shadows to draw to mould form to paint pictures to orchestrate atmosphere to indicate the passing of time as well as to identify place Sometimes shadow can be the substance of architecture

Children As Place-Makers Simon Unwin, 2019 Each of these Analysing Architecture Notebooks is devoted to a particular theme in understanding the rich and varied workings of architecture They can be thought of as addenda to the foundation volume Analysing Architecture which first appeared in 1997 and has subsequently been enlarged in three further editions Examining these extra themes as a series of Notebooks rather than as additional chapters in future editions allows greater space for more detailed exploration of a wider variety of examples whilst avoiding the risk of the original book becoming unwieldy As children we make places spontaneously on the beach in woodland around our homes Those places are evidence of a natural language of architecture we all share Beginning with the child as seed and agent of the places it makes initial sections of Children as Place makers illustrate the key verbs that drive that natural language of architecture Later sections look at the core importance of the circle of place how as children we are drawn to inhabit boxes and the narrative possibilities that arise when place is linked with imagination The principal messages of this Notebook are that it is by place making we make sense of the space of the world in which we live and that the first step in becoming a professional architect is to re awaken the innate architect inside each of us

Metaphor Simon Unwin, 2019-03-28 Each of these Analysing Architecture Notebooks is devoted to a particular theme in understanding the rich and varied workings of architecture They can be thought of as addenda to the foundation volume Analysing Architecture which first appeared in 1997 and has subsequently been enlarged in three further editions Examining these extra themes as a series of Notebooks rather than as additional chapters in future editions allows greater space for more detailed exploration of a wider variety of examples whilst avoiding the risk of the original book becoming unwieldy Metaphor is the most powerful component of the poetry of architecture It has been a significant factor in architecture since the earliest periods of human history when people were finding ways to give order and meaning to the world in which we live It is arguable that architecture began with the realisation of metaphor in physical form and that subsequent movements from Greek to Gothic Renaissance to Modern Victorian to Vernacular have all been driven by the emergence or rediscovery of different metaphors by which architecture might be generated

owe debts to the past often to the distant past when architecture really was being invented for the first time Architects depend on their own imaginations for personal insights and originality but their ideas may be stimulated consciously or subliminally by particularly powerful buildings from history The Ten Most Influential Buildings in History Architecture s Archetypes identifies ten architectural archetypes that have been sources of inspiration for architects through the centuries Each archetype is analysed through distinctive examples following the methodology established by the author in his previous books The variety of lines of enquiry each archetype has provoked in latter day architects are then explored by analysing their work to reveal ideas inspired by those earlier buildings Archetypes have a timeless relevance In adopting this approach The Ten Most Influential Buildings in History is as pertinent to contemporary practice as it is to understanding buildings from antiquity and offers insights into the bridges of influence that can operate between the two
