Humans, Animals and Biopolitics Kristin Asdal, Tone Druglito, Steve Hinchliffe, 2016-07-01 Human animal co existence is central to a politics of life how we order societies and to debates about who we humans think we are In other words our ways of understanding and ordering human animal relations have economic and political implications and affect peoples everyday lives By bringing together historically oriented approaches and contemporary ethnographies which engage with science and technology studies STS this book reflects the multi sited multi species multi logic and multiple ways in which lives are and have been assembled disassembled practised and possibly policed and politicized Instead of asking only how control and knowledge are and have been extended over life the chapters in this book also look at what happens when control fails at practices which defy orders escape detection fail to produce or only loosely hang together In doing so the book problematises and extends the Foucauldian notion of biopolitics that has been such a central analytical concept in studies of human animal relations and provides a unique resource of cases and theoretical refinements regarding the ways in which we live together with more than human others Content-Area Writing Strategies for Science Gina

the future to menace human health failing to defend animal experimentation from the arguments of its opponents has disastrous implications A quick response to an unanticipated threat on the order of the AIDS epidemic is unimaginable absent a vigorous research establishment which in turn is dependent on animal proxies Why Animal Experimentation Matters is a first attempt by research scientists and moral philosophers to mount a convincing defense against animal rights enthusiasts Because opponents of animal experimentation come from a variety of intellectual backgrounds this defense is necessarily interdisciplinary as well In this collection of eight essays the authors scrutinize how animal experimentation actually functions in the laboratory the vital role that it plays in palliating and eradicating human and animal diseases and the moral justification for sacrificing animals for the betterment of human life The subjects covered in the essays include the moral status of animals and persons the importance of animals for advancing scientific knowledge the history of animal experimentation and of its detractors differing theoretical approaches of American and European animal experimentation regulations the heavily restrictive legislation promoted by animal rights activists and the threats posed to research and researchers by violent animal rights zealots Contributors include Baruch Brody H Tristram Englehardt Jr R G Frey Kenneth F Kiple and Kriemhild Cone Ornelas Adrian R Morrison Charles S Nicoll and Sharon M Russell Jerrold Tannenbaum and Stuart M Zola This important anthology will be of interest to scientists philosophers individuals suffering from heritable or communicable diseases relatives of afflicted individuals and policymakers Ellen Frankel Paul is deputy director of the Social Philosophy and Policy Center professor of political science and philosophy at Bowling Green State University and editor in chief of the journal Social Philosophy both are professors of philosophy at Bowling Green State University
