WHAT'S NEW

Archestra® System Platform 2012 R2, the newest centralized application development environment and infrastructure solution from Wonderware®, is designed to deliver:

- Higher information availability
- Larger systems and improved Historian data capacity
- Improved data integrity
- Global system unification with improved security
- A holistic view of contextualized data

IMPROVED BUSINESS CONTINUITY

High availability of information and the ability to easily analyze it is extremely valuable to customers and can quickly translate to bottom line dollars, especially for those running operations around the clock.

Archestra® System Platform 2012 R2 can:

- Support pairing of two Historian Servers in a redundant configuration, such that process values are simultaneously registered in each Historian without requiring separate configuration for each
- Allow users to configure cost-effective domain isolation of the 'control network' from the 'corporate network' and maintaining data integrity and storage
- Allow production to be completely isolated while fully integrated with the business systems, a welcomed option for both production and IT managers alike
- Enable companies to dramatically reduce or even eliminate capital costs and administration associated with the perimeter hardware
- Provide easier data access and trending capabilities at the control level and the business level
