

Hong Kong West Kowloon Cultural District

An approach to the public realm proposes a unique urban development in Hong Kong. On one level this will be a cultural district. On another level it will be a 40-hectare park, physically threaded into the life of the city and the harbour. This is a park in the sky, an undulating landscape affording all who visit – whether by day or by night – amazing views of the harbour and Central District's glittering skyline.

The normative urban model includes natural landscape features as occupants of the ground plane and building facades. In the normative model, buildings literally sit on the landscape, and the architecture divides and controls the urban space caught between. In this new conception, landscape becomes part of the experience of the city fabric, co-habiting with the built environment.
