Olfactory memory networks: from emotional learning to social behaviors Regina M. Sullivan,Donald A.

Wilson,Nadine Ravel,Anne-Marie Mouly,2015-05-08 Odors are powerful stimuli that can evoke emotional states and support learning and memory Decades of research have indicated that the neural basis for this strong odor emotional memory connection is due to the uniqueness of the anatomy of the olfactory pathways Indeed unlike the other sensory systems the sense of smell does not pass through the thalamus to be routed to the cortex Rather odor information is relayed directly to the limbic system a brain region typically associated with memory and emotional processes This provides olfaction with a unique and potent power to influence mood acquisition of new information and use of information in many different contexts including social interactions Indeed olfaction is crucially involved in behaviors essential for survival of the individual and species including identification of predators recognition of individuals for procreation or social hierarchy location of food as well as attachment between mating pairs and infant caretaker dyads Importantly odors are sampled through sniffing behavior This active sensing plays an important role in exploratory behaviors observed in the different contexts mentioned above Odors are also critical for learning and memory about events and places and constitute efficient retrieval cues for the recall of emotional episodic memories This broad role for odors appears highly preserved across species In addition the consistent early developmental emergence of olfactory function across diverse species also provides a unique window of opportunity for analysis of myriad behavioral systems from rodents to nonhuman primates and humans This when combined with the relatively conserved organization of the olfactory system in mammals provides a powerful framework to explore how complex behaviors can be modulated by odors to produce adaptive responses and to investigate the underlying neural networks The present research topic brings together cutting edge research on diverse species and developmental stages highlighting convergence and divergence between humans and animals to facilitate translational research Accessory to War Neil deGrasse Tyson,Avis Lang,2018-09-11 Extraordinary A feast of history an expert tour through thousands of years of war and conquest Jennifer Carson New York Times Book Review In this far reaching foray into the millennia long relationship between science and military power acclaimed astrophysicist Neil deGrasse Tyson and co author Avis Lang examine how the methods and tools of astrophysics have been enlisted in the service of war Spanning early celestial navigation to satellite enabled warfare Accessory to War is a richly researched and provocative examination of the intersection of science technology industry and power that will introduce Tyson s millions of fans to yet another dimension of how the universe has shaped our lives and our world

The Customs Valuation Agreement Mark K. Neville, 2023-03-09 Global Trade Law Series Volume 58 Customs valuation is a key element in the corpus of international trade law Despite the facts that the WTO Valuation Agreement 1994 remains unchanged in all material respects and that it has been adopted by virtually every trading nation on the planet there are fissures in the system preventing consensus on many contentious questions This extremely knowledgeable analysis by a world renowned specialist lawyer in the field by concentrating on diverging views on the nature of the central feature of the Agreement the definition of the price actually paid or payable PAPP provides the most extensive study available of the origins and architecture of the Valuation Agreement and its intersection with transfer pricing norms

Among much else the author fully explains differing views on such questions as the following criteria governing royalties and license fees acceptability of the First Sale for Export doctrine role of transport charges in valuing dutiable assists status of interest payments on deferred payments valuation of carrier media bearing software for data processing equipment inclusion or exclusion of transport charges in the PAPP status of the WTO s moratorium on electronic transmissions status of payments of money for tools and other materials used in producing the imported goods and status of international instruments of traffic The author expertly assesses interpretations of the Valuation Agreement as presented in the instruments of the World Customs Organization and in the administrative and judicial fora of the United States Canada and the European Union This matchless book takes a giant step toward real world consensus on the daunting questions of custom valuation Customs and international tax professionals as well as academic scholars will come away from its in depth coverage with an enhanced ability to discern the logic inherent in the Valuation Agreement a greater awareness of current trends and their origins in authoritative customs valuation bodies and improved confidence when approaching customs valuation questions

Extended Confiscation of Illicit Assets and the Criminal Law Elżbieta Hryniewicz-Lach, 2025-06-30 The European Union is developing instruments which allow law enforcement and judicial authorities to freeze seize and confiscate illicit assets in a simplified way Oversimplification of confiscation procedures may however result in violation of fundamental rights and general principles of law aimed at ensuring protection of individuals against interference from the State Such risk exists in particular in the case of extended confiscation where assets forfeited go beyond what is proven as resulting from a concrete criminal offence This book drawing on the results of a large international project brings together a group of experts to determine the requirements needed to achieve compliance of extended confiscation with the fundamental rights and legal principles included in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the EU European Convention of Human Rights and in national legal orders of the EU Member States Divided into three parts the first details the national perspectives of 14 countries The second part presents analysis of extended confiscation in comparative terms The third and final parts examine extended confiscation in the context of the EU criminal law The book thus provides a detailed analysis of extended confiscation from a number of perspectives and will be an invaluable resource for academics researchers and policymakers working in the areas of Financial Crime Comparative Criminal Justice and Human Rights Law
