'Archaeologizing' Heritage? Michael Falser, Monica Juneja, 2013-05-31 This book investigates what has constituted notions of archaeological heritage from colonial times to the present It includes case studies of sites in South and Southeast Asia with a special focus on Angkor Cambodia The contributions the subjects of which range from architectural and intellectual history to historic preservation and restoration evaluate historical processes spanning two centuries which saw the imagination and production of dead archaeological ruins by often overlooking living local social and ritual forms of usage on site Case studies from computational modelling in archaeology discuss a comparable paradigmatic change from a mere simulation of supposedly dead archaeological building material to an increasing appreciation and scientific incorporation of the knowledge of local stakeholders This book seeks to bring these different approaches from the humanities and engineering sciences into a trans disciplinary discussion
