Popovers and Candlelight Marcia Biederman, 2018-09-10 What would you do with your last sixty dollars If you were Patricia Murphy you d turn it into a fortune by buying a rundown Brooklyn diner On the cusp of the Great Depression the diner became an overnight sensation the first of nine popular Patricia Murphy s Candlelight Restaurants that opened over the course of four decades in New York and Florida Popovers and Candlelight recounts how Murphy bucked Mad Men era sexism in a male dominated field and created remarkable dining experiences with solid American fare a talented staff and eye popping decor Dripping in diamonds she transcended ethnic prejudices to become a socialite and built a brand that sold fragrance as well as food Mutinous siblings a desperate manager and a typhoid outbreak brought it all to an operatic end but Marcia Biederman restores Murphy and her contributions to their proper place in women s and culinary history This book will delight readers with its rags to riches story and fascinating view of class gender ethnicity and food culture during much of the twentieth century

Consumption and the Country House Jon Stobart, Mark Rothery, 2016 This study explores the consumption practices of the landed aristocracy of Georgian England Focussing on three families and drawing on detailed analysis of account books receipted bills household inventories diaries and correspondence Consumption and the Country House charts the spending patterns of this elite group during the so called consumer revolution of the eighteenth century Generally examined through the lens of middling families homes and motivations this book explores the ways in which the aristocracy were engaged in this wider transformation of English society Analysis centres on the goods that the aristocracy purchased both luxurious and mundane the extent to which they pursued fashionable modes and goods the role that family and friends played in shaping notions of taste the influence of gender on taste and refinement the geographical reach of provisioning and the networks that lay behind this consumer activity and the way this all contributed to the construction of the country house The country house thus emerges as much more than a repository of luxury and splendour it lay at the heart of complex networks of exchange sociability demand and supply Exploring these processes and relationships serves to reanimate the country house making it an active site of consumption rather than simply an expression of power and taste and drawing it into the mainstream of consumption histories At the same time the landed aristocracy are shown to be rounded consumers driven by values of thrift and restraint as much as extravagant desires and valuing the old as well as the new not least as markers of their pedigree and heritage

Odds Against Tomorrow Judy Turner, Cindy Smith, 2003-11 Jessica Chandler and Blake Randall have a lot of unfinished business Jessica had once idolized Blake and when the opportunity came she had given herself to him shamelessly She tossed his duty bound proposal in his face After all she had her pride An automobile accident took the lives of her parents and caused her many months of physical therapy and grief counseling Although she was in a wheelchair her torn body was healing After several long years Blake was ending his self imposed exile

He realized that time away did not diminish his intense desire for Jessica It did however ease the pain of her rejection Being away from his family had cost him more than he cared to admit and he longed for their close contact Little did Blake and Jessica know that an unexpected encounter would change the course of their lives

Women in Magazines Rachel Ritchie,Sue Hawkins,Nicola Phillips,S. Jay Kleinberg,2016-02-19 Women have been important contributors to and readers of magazines since the development of the periodical press in the nineteenth century By the mid twentieth century millions of women read the weeklies and monthlies that focused on supposedly feminine concerns of the home family and appearance In the decades that followed feminist scholars criticized such publications as at best conservative and at worst regressive in their treatment of gender norms and ideals However this perspective obscures the heterogeneity of the magazine industry itself and women s experiences of it both as readers and as journalists This collection explores such diversity highlighting the differing and at times contradictory images and understandings of women in a range of magazines and women s contributions to magazines in a number of contexts from late nineteenth century publications to twenty first century titles in Britain North America continental Europe and Australia

Campus Cinephilia in Neoliberal South Korea Josie Jung Yeon Sohn,2022-05-16 Taking a transnational approach to the study of film culture this book draws on ethnographic fieldwork in a South Korean university film club to explore a cosmopolitan cinephile subculture that thrived in an ironic unevenness between the highly nationalistic mood of commercial film culture and the intense neoliberal milieu of the 2000s As these time poor students devoted themselves to the study of film that is unlikely to help them in the job market they experienced what a student described as a different kind of fun while they appreciated their voracious consumption of international art films as a very private matter at a time of unprecedented boom in the domestic film industry This unexpectedly vibrant cosmopolitan subculture of student cinephiles in neoliberal South Korea makes the nation s film culture more complex and interesting than a simple nationalistic affair
