Finweek ,2006-07 Pushing our Understanding of Diversity in Organizations Eden B. King,Quinetta Roberson,Mikki R. Hebl,2020-02-01 Few time periods in the past five decades match the intensity of intergroup conflict that people around the world are currently experiencing Polarized attitudes around various sociopolitical issues such as gender equality and immigration have dominated the media and our lives Furthermore these powerful social dynamics have also impacted the places where we work and intensified existing strains on workers and workplaces To address these issues and improve organizational climates more theories research and collaborations to understand these phenomena are needed The volumes in this series will describe and instigate scholarship that advances our understanding of diversity in organizations This volume features renowned scholars who are unabashedly pushing the field by raising the questions that need to be asked by working on topics that have received far too little research attention and by holding researchers practitioners managers organizations and readers to task for doing what needs to be done to maximize social justice and egalitarian behaviors in the workplace The chapters provoke the status quo in society and in scholarship and in so doing push our understanding of diversity in organizations Social Memory as a Force for Social and Economic Transformation Muxe

Nkondo,2023-02-01 This volume of essays is a reflection on social memory as a force for social and economic transformation Written by scholars and organic intellectuals it focuses on the uses of social memory in particular the conflict between the legacies of colonialism and the movement for fundamental change The content addresses both experts and ordinary citizens alike with a view to advancing discourse on where we are right now and how we move on from here to achieve meaningful transformation As scholars and public representatives with a deep understanding of the social economic and political dynamics of modern history of South Africa the contributors offer their unique perspectives and reflections on history politics economics culture education ethics and the arts as well as the links that bind these aspects into an ecology of ideas and attitudes Biodiversity and Education for Sustainable Development Paula Castro,Ulisses M. Azeiteiro,Paula

Bacelar-Nicolau,Walter Leal Filho,Anabela Marisa Azul,2016-05-26 This book gathers interdisciplinary reflections from researchers educators and other experts on the subject of biodiversity closer to education and learning The book also highlights its role as an added value to strategic principles for healthy ecosystems and sustainable human development It promotes critical thinking and foster practices and attitudes for Education for Sustainable Development reconciling education with principles of human behaviour and nature Readers especially find this book a timely resource in light of the Strategic Plan for Biodiversity 2011 2020 the Aichi Targets and the new EU biodiversity strategy Our life insurance our natural capital an EU biodiversity strategy to 2020 Along with the challenge of ecosystems and public health biodiversity conservation is essential for humanity s continued security and sustainability as it touches on all aspects of people s lives

Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa
