Optimization, Machine Learning, and Fuzzy Logic: Theory, Algorithms, and Applications Mzili, Toufik,Arya, Adarsh Kumar,Pamucar, Dragan,Shaheen, Momina,2025-02-20

Optimization machine learning and fuzzy logic are fundamental in the field of computational intelligence each contributing to solving complex problems across various domains Optimization techniques focus on finding the best solutions to problems by improving efficiency and minimizing resources Machine learning enables systems to learn from data making predictions or decisions without being programmed Fuzzy logic deals with uncertainty and imprecision allowing for flexible decision making processes Together these theories algorithms and applications solve challenges in fields such as engineering finance and healthcare where traditional methods often fall short The continued application and exploration of these disciplines may unveil new possibilities for advanced problem solving and intelligent systems Optimization Machine Learning and Fuzzy Logic Theory Algorithms and Applications explores optimization techniques fuzzy logic and their integration with machine learning It covers fundamental concepts mathematical foundations algorithms and applications providing a holistic understanding of these domains This book covers topics such as disease detection deep learning and text analysis and is a useful resource for engineers data scientists medical professionals academicians and researchers

A Conceptual Framework for SMART Applications in Higher Education: Emerging Research and Opportunities Connelly, James Orion,Miller, Paula,2019-11-01 With the rapid availability of information it becomes essential to keep pace with this availability as well as process the information into knowledge that has real world applications Neuroscientific methods allow an approach to this problem based on the way that the human brain already operates Over the centuries and through observation and trial and error we already know a great deal about how we can teach and learn but now we can verify this with scientific fact and discover previously unknown aspects of brain physiology These observations of brain functioning have produced many learning theories all of which have varying degrees of validity These theories in turn give birth to theories and models of instructional design which also have varying degrees of validity A Conceptual Framework for SMART Applications in Higher Education Emerging Research and Opportunities is a critical scholarly publication that explores how the brain acquires and processes information to turn information into knowledge and the role of SMART technology and how it combines and integrates visual and aural data to facilitate learning The book also discusses ways to apply what is known about teaching to how the brain operates and how to incorporate instructional design models into the teaching and learning process Highlighting various topics such as neurogenesis smart technologies and behaviorism this book is essential for instructional designers online instruction managers teachers academicians administrators researchers knowledge managers and students The Higher Education Institutions Handbook ,2012 Kenya Gazette ,2012-03-02 The Kenya

Gazette is an official publication of the government of the Republic of Kenya It contains notices of new legislation notices required to be published by law or policy as well as other announcements that are published for general public information It is published every week usually on Friday with occasional releases of special or supplementary editions within the week

Alkaliphiles in Biotechnology Gashaw Mamo,Bo Mattiasson,2020-06-26 This book is devoted to alkaliphiles their microbiology biotechnological applications and adaptive mechanisms Alkaliphiles are extremophilic organisms that are adapted to thrive in alkaline environments Over the years a wide variety of alkaliphiles belonging to domain Bacteria Archaea and Eukarya have been isolated and studied These organisms use various adaptive mechanisms to thrive in extreme alkaline environments and some of these adaptive mechanisms are of immense importance to a range of biotechnological applications In this book readers will learn about the adaptive strategies of alkaliphiles in colonizing alkaline habitats with a main focus on 1 the production of enzymes that are active and stable in the high pH environment and 2 the production of acids that decrease the pH of their immediate surrounding environment Enzymes that are operationally stable at high pH also known as alkaline active enzymes are desirable in several applications such as detergent formulating and leather tanning processes and they are among the major selling enzymes and the most important industrial enzymes The growing demand in many existing and emerging biotechnological applications led to the discovery characterization engineering and evaluation of diverse types of alkaline active enzymes In addition to the use of these fascinating enzymes in biotechnological applications readers will discover the mechanisms of action and stability of these enzymes at extreme pH Studies have shown that some alkaliphiles decrease the severity of the high pH of their media by producing substantial amount of organic acids which could be of great interest in various applications presented in this book In addition to enzymes and organic acids other products of biotechnological importance such as carotenoids bioactive substances and chelators have also attracted researchers attention Whole cells of alkaliphiles have been used as food and feed and are also useful in environmental applications such as in waste treatment and construction Marine Greens Sesan Abiodun Aransiola,Oluwafemi Adebayo Oyewole,Naga Raju

Maddela,Udeme Joshua Josiah Ijah,Bangeppagari Manjunatha,2024-03-27 This book provides an in depth overview of marine greens and their environmental and biotechnological applications It addresses concepts such as the niche adaptation strategies of marine greens in their natural habitats as well as their global distribution and factors affecting their distribution and proliferation Marine greens are posited as an alternative to fossil fuels mitigating global climate change and thereby fostering future environmental sustainability In addition the book explains the remediation of xenobiotics wastewater microplastics marine debris and marine green contamination Expert authors from around the world explore the industrial and agricultural applications of marine greens in the production of enzymes and marine bioenergy and what is needed to improve its production potential This is important reading for government and non governmental organizations as well as industries and research institutions looking for ways to combat current industrial and environmental challenges Health in Diversity - Diversity in Health Katharina Crepaz,Ulrich Becker,Elisabeth Wacker,2020-02-03 European public discourse often frames forced migration solely as a security issue and ignores the implications of societal diversity for health quality of life and well being in both Africa and Europe The present volume offers an interdisciplinary and international look at the relationship between refugees diversity and health including health care policies socio political framework conditions environmental factors the situation in refugee camps quality of life approaches and economical perspectives Basic Sciences for Sustainable Development Ponnadurai Ramasami,2023-03-20 The year 2022 has been declared by the United Nations as the International Year of Basic Sciences for Sustainable Development Sustainable development is focused on the UN s 17 Sustainable Development Goals These require the use of basic sciences This edited book of proceedings volume 2 is a collection of ten invited and peerreviewed contributions from environmental protection and water remediation Citizen Participation in Decision Making Njogu, Kimani,2014-01-16 This book is a result of public dialogue forums in pursuit of accountable and transparent governance in Kenya organized by Twaweza Communications with the support of Ford Foundation From the convenings it was evident that the stability of Kenya will be driven by the extent to which citizens feel fully included in the development agenda Quite often political leaders view the role of citizens in governance as restricted primarily to their participation in the electoral process This narrow view has led to arrogance and total disregard of citizens after poll results are announced Under the new political dispensation heralded by the promulgation of the Constitution of Kenya on August 27 2010 this trend must change and the sovereignty of the people in theory and practice must be reinscribed The publication raises important issues worth serious reflection It also suggests ways in which citizens can better participate in their own transformation Case studies highlighted in the book exemplify the importance building the Kenyan nation by addressing patterns of exclusion and glaring inequalities The topics covered include multipartism natural resource governance gender politics of identity marginalization of Coastal Kenya youth empowerment and investing in knowledge economy among others The book is a valuable addition to our understanding of the root political and social anxieties in Kenya and how these could be ameliorated
