Ensuring Quality in Professional Education Volume II Karen Trimmer, Tara Newman, Fernando F. Padró, 2019-01-11 This book examines quality teaching in professional education in the fields of engineering and international knowledge structures. The second of a two volume series, the editors and contributors structure the book around case studies which highlight the elements constituting good practice within professional education. While there is no one specific route to prepare well qualified professionals, this volume explores the decisions the academics responsible for delivering this education make to ensure quality curricula. Ultimately, the key to effective preparations rests with the value employers place on the focus, emphasis and balance between the academic and practical in relation to their own expectations for skills that graduates must have. The second volume in this collection will appeal to students and scholars of professional pedagogy and engineering pedagogy more specifically.

Race, Gender and Contemporary International Labor Migration Regimes Leticia Saucedo, Robyn Magalit Rodriguez, 2022-12-13 Migrant workers around the world are subject to exploitative labor practices that give employers extraordinary bargaining power. This book brings together researchers, practitioners and advocates who explore the many ways that contracted migrant workers are rendered vulnerable in the workplace. In this book, the term 21st century coolie is deployed as a heuristic device that foregrounds the deeply unequal structures shaping the transnational flows of short term migrant workers. The term coolie harkens back to the labor arrangements of earlier centuries that involved conscripted labor, indentured servitude and contract labor across national borders. Like those of past centuries, today's coolies are subject to legal constraints inside and outside the employment relationship that force them into subjugated positions within the workplace.

It contains contributions from sustainability researchers from across the world.

Protecting the Rights of Women Migrant Domestic Workers Sophie Henderson, 2022-02-09 Migrant women across Asia disproportionately work in precarious, insecure and informal employment sectors that are subject to few regulations, pay low wages and expose women to harm of which domestic work is among the most prevalent. This book uses the cases of the Philippines and Sri Lanka to develop a comprehensive intersectional rights based approach to better protect women migrant domestic workers against exploitation. As accounts of exploitation, gender based violence, torture and death among migrant domestic workers increase, the recognition and defence of their human and labour rights is an urgent necessity. The Philippines and Sri Lanka are two of the leading labour sending states of women domestic workers in Asia and their economies have become increasingly dependent on the remittances they send back home. Drawing on extensive original research, this book argues that these two sending states are guilty of structural violence by sustaining a network of institutions, policies and practices which serve to systematically disadvantage and discriminate.
