Application Forms For 2015 At Lephalale:

Space and planning in secondary cities Lochner Marais, Verna Nel, 2019-09-01 Much of the urban research focuses on the large metropolitan areas in South Africa This book assesses spatial planning in the second tier cities of the country Secondary cities are vital as they perform essential regional and in some cases global economic roles and help to distribute the population of a country more evenly across its surface Apartheid planning left South African cities fragmented segregated and with low densities Post apartheid policies aim to reverse these realities by emphasising integration higher densities and upgrading Achieving these aims has been challenging and often the historical patterns continue The evidence shows that two opposing patterns prevail namely increased densities and continued urban sprawl This book presents ten case studies of spatial planning and spatial transformation in secondary cities of South Africa The book frames these case studies against complexity theory and suggests that the post apartheid response to apartheid planning represents a linear deviation from history The ten case studies then reveal how difficult it is for local decision makers to find appropriate responses and how current responses often result in contradictory results Often these cities are highly vulnerable and they find it difficult to plan in the context of uncertainty The book also highlights how these cities find it difficult to stand on their own against the influence of interest groups property developers mining companies traditional authorities other spheres of government The main reasons include weak municipal finance statements the dependence on national and provincial government for capital expenditure limited investment in infrastructure maintenance the lack of planning capacity the inability to implement plans and the unintended and sometimes contrary outcomes of post apartheid planning policies Population Growth and Rapid Urbanization in the Developing World Benna, Umar G., Garba, Shaibu Bala, 2016-06-07 As the global population continues to boom particularly in the developing countries it has become necessary to find ways to handle this increase through various policy tools that address population growth and urbanization problems The urbanization process has both potentials issues as well as opportunities to move societies forward that need to be exploited Population Growth and Rapid Urbanization in the Developing World examines trends challenges issues and strategies adopted by developing countries in the face of population growth and rapid urbanization and its impact on urban environments The book explores patterns of population growth and urbanization use of different governance approaches in addressing challenges as well as different tools and systems of appropriate allocation to address issues The book is a comprehensive reference for academicians students practitioners professionals managers urban planners and government officials The Geography of South Africa Jasper Knight, Christian M. Rogerson, 2018-10-03 This edited collection examines contemporary directions in geographical research on South Africa It encompasses a cross section of selected themes of critical importance not only to the discipline of Geography in South Africa but also of relevance to other areas of the Global South All chapters are original contributions providing a state of the art research baseline on key themes in physical human and environmental geography and in understanding the changing geographical landscapes of modern South Africa These contributions set the scene for an understanding of the relationships between modern South Africa and the wider contemporary world including issues of sustainable development and growth in the Global South

What About Us? Global Perspectives on Redressing Religious Inequalities Mariz Tadros, Olumide Adebimpe Aderounmu, Asif Aqeel, Manal Ahmed (Elehemier), Miriam Feldmann Kaye, Mary Gill, Mark Kaahwa, Philip Mader, Matome Jacky Makgoba, Moses Muhumuza, Rebecca Supriya Shah, Timothy Samuel Shah, Katharine Thane, Rifqah Tifloen, Tom Vanwing, 2022-10-26 How can we make religious equality a reality for those on the margins of society and politics This book is about the individual and collective struggles of the religiously marginalised to be recognised and their inequalities religious or otherwise redressed It is also about the efforts of civil society governments multilateral actors and scholars to promote freedom of religion or belief whatever shape they take The actors and contexts that feature in this book are as diverse as health workers in Israel local education authorities in Nigeria indigenous movements in India Uganda or South Africa and multilateral actors such as the Islamic Development Bank in Sudan and the World Bank in Pakistan Some of the case studies engage with development discourses and narratives or are undertaken by development actors while other cases operate completely outside the international development paradigm These case studies present some important insights which while highly relevant for their contexts also draw out important insights for academics practitioners activists and others who have an interest in redressing religious inequalities for socioeconomically marginalised populations

Jane's Foreign Report, 2008 Visions of Energy Futures Benjamin K. Sovacool, 2019-03-04 This book examines the visions fantasies frames discourses imaginaries and expectations associated with six state of the art energy systems nuclear power hydrogen fuel cells shale gas clean coal smart meters and electric vehicles playing a key role in current deliberations about low carbon energy supply and use Visions of Energy Futures Imagining and Innovating Low Carbon Transitions unveils what the future of energy systems could look like and how their meanings are produced often alongside moments of contestation Theoretically it analyzes these technological case studies with emerging concepts from various disciplines utopianism history of technology symbolic convergence communication studies technological frames social construction of technology discursive coalitions discourse analysis and linguistics sociotechnical imaginaries science and technology studies and the sociology of expectations innovation studies future studies It draws from these cases to create a synthetic set of dichotomies and frameworks for energy futures based on original data collected across two global epistemic communities nuclear physicists and hydrogen engineers and experts in Eastern Europe and the Nordic region stakeholders in South Africa and newspapers in the United Kingdom This book is motivated by the premise that tackling climate change via low carbon energy systems and practices is one of the most significant challenges of the twenty first century and that success will require not only new energy technologies but also new ways of understanding language visions and discursive politics The discursive creation of the energy systems of tomorrow are propagated in polity hoping to be realized as the material fact of the future but processed in conflicting ways with underlying tensions as to how contemporary societies ought to be ordered

This book will be essential reading for students and scholars of energy policy energy and environment and technology
