academic activism to manifest in revolutionised pedagogical actions or actions that bring into contestation what already exists with the possibility for the cultivation of renewal Higher Education ICT Integration in Africa Ke Yu, Reuben Dlamini, 2024-08-21 This multidisciplinary edited volume examines higher education's ICT integration in Africa contributing a new and inclusive change readiness framework to better understand how to manage ICT or other technological disruptions in resource-restrained contexts Tackling ICT incorporation in HEIs from different levels chapters document case studies from countries such as Uganda South Africa Rwanda Eswatini and Zimbabwe to demonstrate both the complexity of integration but also the successes it has enabled and under which conditions The cases included in this book also exhibit better incorporation of both change content and process while some cases also make explicit reference to other technology adoption models Ultimately the book highlights conceptual and empirical research to inform practices and policy development in Africa improving multi-level success or change readiness in ICT incorporation in HEIs in Africa Addressing various gaps in existing literature and proposing innovative solutions like the multilevel change readiness model this book will therefore be of interest to scholars researchers and academics in the fields of higher education ICT integration and educational technology more broadly The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial No Derivatives CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 license Drum, 2007

Digital Preservation and Documentation of Global Indigenous Knowledge Systems Masenya, Tlou Maggie, 2023-08-03 Indigenous knowledge is regarded as undocumented cultural local traditional and community knowledge produced and owned by local people in their specific communities It is mainly preserved in the memories of elders and shared or passed on from generation to generation through oral communication traditional practices and demonstrations This irreplaceable resource may be lost forever as a direct result of the pressures of modernization colonization and globalization Concern over the loss of Indigenous knowledge has thus raised a need for the preservation and documentation of this knowledge in digital formats Digital Preservation and Documentation of Global Indigenous Knowledge Systems determines how Indigenous knowledge can be documented and digitally preserved to benefit Indigenous knowledge owners and their communities and be accessible for future generations The book provides the best practices innovative strategies theoretical and conceptual frameworks and empirical research findings regarding the digital preservation and documentation of Indigenous knowledge systems worldwide Covering topics such as digital media platforms educational management and knowledge systems this premier reference source is a valuable and useful tool for students information professionals knowledge managers records managers Indigenous knowledge owners Indigenous community leaders librarians archivists computer scientists information technology specialists students and educators of higher education researchers and academicians Corrupted Jonathan D Jansen,2023-02 Through investigatory reports and interviews Jonathan Jansen reveals the structural conditions for chronic dysfunction in a sample of South African universities He reveals the political economy at work and the intense competition for resources on campuses He also provides interventions for these fragile institutions Why do some universities seem to be in a constant state of turmoil and dysfunction Jonathan Jansen explores the root causes of chronic instability in a sample of South African universities Through scrutiny of investigatory reports and interviews with more than 100 university managers and government officials Jansen finds that at the heart of the dysfunction in universities is an intense and sometimes deadly competition for resources especially on campuses located in impoverished communities It is not the lack of institutional resources but their concentration in a university that draws a mix of corrupt actors from local politicians and taxi operators to members of council and management into a never ending run on the material such as money for infrastructure and symbolic namely graduation certificates for sale assets of these institutions Jansen argues that the problem won t be solved through investments in capacity building alone because the combination of institutional capacity and institutional integrity contributes to serial instability in universities Jansen makes an important intervention to understanding the root causes and offers interventions to produce stabilities such as the depoliticisation of university councils and appointing academics of integrity and capacity in the management and leadership of these fragile institutions This groundbreaking and long overdue study will offer a promising way forward for universities to better serve their communities and the country more broadly

Revaluation and Preservation of Indigenous Knowledge Systems in Modern Society Masenya, Tlou Maggie,Bhuda, Monicca Thulisile,2025-05-08 Indigenous Knowledge can be used to integrate education in today's society honoring and respecting the diversity of knowledge sources and fostering an inclusive and fair learning environment. This increases cultural pride and consequently the drive to find creative solutions to local problems using resources and inventiveness that are available locally. Indigenous people have important knowledge about the ecosystem in the area and how best to manage its natural resources. A growing number of people outside of indigenous knowledge systems are interested in them as a result of the current global ecological catastrophe and the understanding that overuse of natural resources arises from unsuitable attitudes and technology. Indigenous Knowledge is the basis from which alternative ways of managing resources can be developed using indigenous technologies that are cost effective and economically affordable. Revaluation and Preservation of Indigenous Knowledge Systems in Modern Society contributes to the role of indigenous knowledge in the contemporary society by focusing on the preservation, promotion and dissemination of indigenous knowledge. Covering topics such as food security, intellectual property protection and biocultural community protocols, this book is an excellent resource for knowledge managers, records managers, indigenous knowledge owners, indigenous communities, librarians, computer scientists, data curators, sociologists, anthropologists, policymakers, government officials, professionals, researchers, scholars, academicians and more. Universities in Transition Bo Göransson, Claes Brundenius, 2010-12-16. Globalization, the information age and the rise of the knowledge based economy are significantly transforming the way we acquire, disseminate and transform knowledge. And as a result, knowledge production is becoming closer and more directly linked to economic competitiveness. This evolution is also putting new and urgent demands on academic institutions to adjust to the changing needs of society and economy. In particular, there is growing pressure on the institutions of higher education and research in developed economies to find and affirm their new role in the national innovation system. Their counterparts in developing economies need to define their role in supporting emerging structures of the innovation system. This book examines the role of universities and national research institutes in social and economic development processes. Featuring contributions that showcase initiatives and innovations from around the world including China, Eastern Europe, Latin America, Scandinavia, Southeast Asia, sub-Saharan Africa and Western Europe, it offers timely insight that will be of interest to policymakers, university administrators, economic and social leaders and researchers alike.
