The Smells and Senses of Antiquity in the Modern Imagination Adeline Grand-Clément, Filippo Carlà-Uhink, Charlotte Ribeyrol, Martin Lindner, 2023-06-29 This volume tackles the role of smell under explored in relation to the other senses in the modern rejection reappraisal and idealisation of antiquity Among the senses olfaction in particular has often been overlooked in classical reception studies due to its evanescent nature which makes this sense difficult to apprehend in its past instantiations And yet the smells associated with a given figure or social group convey a rich imagery which in turn connotes specific values perfumes scents and foul odours both reflect and mould the ways in which a society thinks or acts Smells also help to distinguish between male and female citizens and strangers and play an important role during rituals The Smells and Senses of Antiquity in the Modern Imagination focuses on the representation of ancient smells both enticing and repugnant in the visual and performative arts from the late 18th century up to the 21st century The individual contributions explore painting sculpture literature and film but also theatrical performance museum exhibitions advertising television series historical reenactment and graphic novels which have all played a part in reshaping modern audiences perceptions and experiences of the antique

The Ancient World in Alternative History and Counterfactual Fictions Alberto J. Quiroga Puertas, Leire Olabarria, 2024-09-19 Focusing in turn on history powerful individuals under represented voices and the arts the essays in this collection cover a wide variety of modern and contemporary narrative fiction from Jo Walton and L Sprague De Camp to T S Chaudhry and Catherynne M Valente Chapters look into the question of chance versus determinism in the unfolding of historical events the role individuals play in shaping a society or occasion and the way art and literature symbolise important messages in counterfactual histories They also show how uchronic narratives can take advantage of modern literary techniques to reveal new and relevant aspects of the past giving voices to marginalised minorities and suppressed individuals of the ancient world Counterfactual fiction and uchronic narratives have been largely up until now the domain of literary critics However these modes of literature are here analysed by scholars of Ancient History Egyptology and Classics shedding important new light on how cultures of the ancient world have been and still are perceived and to what extent our conceptions of the past are used to explore alternate presents and futures Alternate history entices the imagination of the public by suggesting hypothetical scenarios that never occurred underlining a latent tension between reality and imagination and between determinism and contingency This interest has resulted in a growing number of publications that gauge the impact of what if narratives and this one is the first to give scholars of the ancient world centre stage

Religious Symbols and the Intervention of the Law Sylvie Bacquet, 2019-06-11 In contemporary pluralist states where faith communities live together different religious symbols and practices have to coexist This may lead to conflicts between certain minority practices and the dominant majority particularly around the manifestation of belief in the public domain which may be seen both by the religious and secular majorities as a threat to their cultural heritage or against the secular values of the host country The law has to mitigate those tensions in order to protect the public from harm and preserve order but in doing so it may where necessary have to limit citizens ability to freely manifest their religion It is those limitations that have been disputed in the courts on grounds of freedom of religion and belief Religious symbols are often at the heart of legal battles with courts called upon to consider the lawfulness of banning or restricting certain symbols or practices This book analyses the relationship between the state individuals and religious symbols considering the three main forms of religious expression symbols that believers wear on their body symbols in the public space such as religious edifices and rituals that believers perform as a manifestation of their faith The book looks comparatively at legal responses in England the U S A and France comparing different approaches to the issues of symbols in the public sphere and their interaction with the law The book considers religious manifestation as a social phenomenon taking a multidisciplinary approach to the question mixing elements of the anthropology history and sociology of religion in order to provide some context and examine how this could help inform the law

The Shared World Axel Seemann, 2019-05-07 A novel treatment of the capacity for shared attention joint action and perceptual common knowledge In The Shared World Axel Seemann offers a new treatment of the capacity to perceive act on and know about the world together with others Seemann argues that creatures capable of joint attention stand in a unique perceptual and epistemic relation to their surroundings they operate in an environment that they through their communication with their fellow perceivers help constitute Seemann shows that this relation can be marshaled to address a range of questions about the social aspect of the mind and its perceptual and cognitive capacities Seemann begins with a conceptual question about a complex kind of sociocognitive phenomenon perceptual common knowledge and develops an empirically informed account of the spatial structure of the environment in and about which such knowledge is possible In the course of his argument he addresses such topics as demonstrative reference in communication common knowledge about jointly perceived objects and spatial awareness in joint perception and action

Borderscapes: Imaginations and Practices of Border Making Chiara Brambilla, Jussi Laine, Gianluca Bocchi, 2016-04-15 Using the borderscapes concept this book offers an approach to border studies that expresses the multilevel complexity of borders from the geopolitical to social practice and cultural production at and across the border Accordingly it encourages a productive understanding of the processual de territorialized and dispersed nature of borders and their ensuring regimes in the era of globalization and transnational flows as well as showcasing border research as an interdisciplinary field with its own academic standing Contemporary bordering processes and practices are examined through the borderscapes lens to uncover important connections between borders as a challenge to national and EU policies and borders as potential elements of political innovation through conceptual re framings of social political economic and cultural spaces The authors offer a nuanced and critical re reading and understanding of the border not as an entity to be taken for granted but as a place of investigation and as a resource in terms of the construction of novel geo political imaginations social and spatial imaginaries and cultural images In so doing they suggest that rethinking borders means deconstructing the interweaving between political practices of inclusion exclusion and the images created to support and communicate them on the cultural level by Western territorialist modernity The result is a book that proposes a wandering through a constellation of bordering policies discourses practices and images to open new possibilities for thinking mapping acting and living borders under contemporary globalization
