

Areas of Sectors and Arc Length for Geometry Spring 2014

1. Pick a number for this problem: _____ A sector is a geometric shape much like a slice of pizza. It is a closed figure with a central angle and a curved edge (the arc). The length of the curved edge (the arc) is called the arc length.

 The sector is shaded, and it's like a piece of pizza; the arc length is like the crust.	α° is the measure of the central angle (the angle at the center). r is the radius. s is the arc length (the length of the arc). A is the area of the sector.	Area of a Sector:	Arc Length:
		$\frac{\alpha}{360} \pi r^2 = \frac{A}{\pi r^2}$	$\frac{\alpha}{360} \pi r = \frac{s}{2\pi r}$

2. Rotate to a new number: _____ Consider the sector pictured below, for which we already know the central angle and radius:

a) Determine the approximate area of the sector, rounded to the nearest thousandth. Include proper units.	a) What is its radius, r ?	b) What is the measure of its central angle α ?
	c) Write down the formula for the area of a sector.	d) Determine the exact area of the sector (in terms of π). Include proper units.
e) Determine the approximate arc length, rounded to the nearest hundredth. Include proper units.	f) Write down the formula for the arc length.	g) Determine the exact arc length, s . Include proper units.
	h) Suppose we wanted the area of the shaded sector: what value of variable α would you use for the central angle? (The answer is NOT 20°; that's for the shaded sector!)	i) Determine the exact area of the shaded sector.
