New Directions in Forensic Psychology: Applying Neuropsychology, Biomarkers and Technology in Assessment & Intervention Joan E. Van Horn,Josanne van Dongen,Yvonne H. A. Bouman,Märta Wallinius ,Patrice Renaud,2024-10-23 New trends in research assessment and treatment are currently visible in the forensic field in three relatively separate areas the use of neuropsychology biomarkers and wearables and VR technology in forensic mental health These areas individually can make a valuable contribution to improving forensic assessments and treatment but combined they might even have a greater impact For example heart rate variability a biomarker can be visualized during Virtual Reality VR scenarios to increase patients insights into their physiological responses With our topic New Directions in Forensic Psychology Applying Neuropsychology Biomarkers and Technology in Assessment and Intervention we hope to offer more insight into the state of scientific developments in the aforementioned areas as they relate to forensic psychology As a result we hope to be able to pinpoint lacking knowledge and offer suggestions for further research

Assessment and Obligatory Treatment of Violent and Sexually Violent Offenders Ruud H. J. Hornsveld,Floris W. Kraaimaat,Luk A. C. L. Gijs,Emma J. Palmer,2019-11-13 This book examines the assessment and obligatory treatment programs for violent and sexually violent offenders primarily adolescents and adults diagnosed with cluster B personality disorder or a conduct disorder. It describes concepts, theories, and legal aspects as well as the psychological and neurobiological characteristics of violent and sexually violent offenders and forensic psychiatric patients. Chapters review treatment programs and provide guidelines for gathering additional information and formulating functional analyses to establish individual treatment plans. In addition, chapters offer treatment modules for violent offenders and sexually violent offenders and address specific problems that may be encountered in practice and how to overcome these problems. The book concludes with the editors' recommendations for future research in offender assessment and rehabilitation. Topics featured in this book include: Heuristic models of aggressive and sexually aggressive behavior; The use of self-reporting questionnaires in offender populations; Reliable assessment instruments; The effectiveness of existing rehabilitation programs; Cognitive behavioral treatment modules for violent and sexually violent offenders; Self-regulation and self-management skills to be used in rehabilitation programs; Facilitating treatment integrity in penitentiary and forensic psychiatric institutions; Assessment and Obligatory Treatment of Violent and Sexually Violent Offenders. This is an essential resource for researchers, clinicians, therapists, and upper-level undergraduate and graduate students in forensic psychology, public health, criminology, criminal justice, and behavioral therapy and rehabilitation.

Treating Sex Offenders Sarah Brown, 2013-07-04 This book aims to provide an introduction and overview of sex offender treatment programmes designed for students and practitioners coming to this field. It seeks to describe the development, theoretical underpinnings, treatment goals, and operation of cognitive behavioural and other programmes to an audience unfamiliar with this form of rehabilitation. In addition, it aims to examine the effectiveness of these programmes and the difficulties associated with assessing this, the public response to treatment, and also the effects on staff responsible for implementing them. The book is concerned particularly to assess the operation of sex offender treatment programmes in the UK context, considering also the issues associated with implementing programmes developed in other contexts, especially the USA and Canada. It will be of interest to practitioners, particularly those who are beginning work on sex offender treatment programmes or others such as health workers, social workers, probation officers who come into contact with these programmes indirectly.

Substance Abuse Treatment for Adults in the Criminal Justice System, 2005 This TIP provides counselors with clinical guidelines to assist with problems that routinely occur with clients in the criminal justice system who are dealing with substance abuse and dependency disorders. It describes the unique needs of offenders. It addresses the challenges counselors and criminal justice personnel are likely to face at every stage of the criminal justice continuum.

Psychiatric Disorders in the Prison Population in the United States Hassaan Tohid, Ian Hunter Rutkofsky, 2025-06-14 This book discusses why different mental disorders arise in United States prison populations, explores potential solutions, and examines prevention. The US has one of the highest rates of incarceration in the world, and prisoners have disproportionately high rates of mental health concerns which significantly affect their daily functioning and increase rates of recidivism The first section of the book focuses on the causes and prevention of specific disorders The disorders covered include anxiety disorders attention deficit hyperactivity disorder ADHD schizophrenia post traumatic stress disorder PTSD and antisocial personality disorder amongst others commonly found in the incarcerated patient population Following the disorder focused chapters is a chapter discussing the current state of mental health and mental health support within the US prison system The book closes with a chapter dedicated to mental health support during the already highly challenging transition from incarceration to societal reintegration For individuals with mental health conditions the difficulty of this time increases exponentially and the chapter focuses on reducing the need for and increasing the availability of mental health services Psychiatric Disorders in the Prison Population in the United States will be of great use to mental health providers that treat current or members or former members of the US prison population Therapeutic process and treatment evaluation in forensic psychiatry and prison Manuela Dudeck,Najat R. Khalifa,Jürgen Leo Müller,Birgit Angela Völlm,Judith Streb,2022-12-29 Alcohol-Related Violence Mary McMurran,2012-10-03 New in the Wiley Series in Forensic Clinical Psychology Alcohol Related Violence Prevention and Treatment presents an authoritative collection of the most recent assessment and treatment strategies for alcohol related aggression and violence Features contributions from leading international academics and practitioners Offers invaluable guidance for practitioners regarding intervention to reduce alcohol related aggression and violence Describes evidence based interventions at a number of levels including populations bar room families couples and individuals
