Applied Studies In Climate Adaptation:

Applied Studies in Climate Adaptation Jean P. Palutikof, Sarah L. Boulter, Jon Barnett, David Rissik, 2014-12-31 The book advances knowledge about climate change adaptation practices through a series of case studies. It presents important evidence about adaptation practices in agriculture, businesses, the coastal zone, community services, disaster management, ecosystems, indigenous populations and settlements, and infrastructure. In addition to 38 case studies across these sectors, the book contains horizon scoping essays from international experts in adaptation research including Hallie Eakin, Susanne Moser, Jonathon Overpeck, Bill Solecki, and Gary Yohe. Australia's social ecological systems have a long history of adapting to climate variability and change, and in recent decades has been a world leader in implementing and researching adaptation, making this book of universal relevance to all those working to adapt our environment and societies to climate change.

Climate Change Adaptation in the Built Environment Chamindi Malalgoda, Dilanthi Amarunga, Richard Haigh, Shavindree Nissanka, Nishara Fernando, Ruben Paul Borg, Mo Hamza, 2025-05-02 Global climate change is one of the greatest environmental threats facing humanity, and it is affecting every country on every continent. Recent evidence confirms a close liaison between climate change-induced hazards and the built environment, as the built environment demonstrates a high fragility and vulnerability to hazardous situations. The impact of climate change is particularly pertinent to the built environment given the life expectancy of buildings and the fact that it is essential to adapt the existing built environment to deal with a climate that may be significantly different from that in which it evolved. Coastal regions are highly vulnerable to climate change because, in addition to changes in temperature, precipitation, and more frequent flooding, they will be affected by rising sea levels, wave heights, and accelerated coastal erosion. The built environment exerts considerable influence over coastal communities, local climate, and environment. Coastal areas also tend to be highly populated with many vulnerable urban centres located near the coastal belt. In addressing such challenges, it is important to better understand the impacts of climate change on the built environment and to develop tangible climate adaptation measures for the built environment.

Innovation in Climate Change Adaptation Walter Leal, 2016-01-16 This book introduces innovative approaches to pursue climate change adaptation and to support the long-term implementation of climate change policies. Offering new case studies and data, as well as projects and initiatives implemented across the globe, the contributors present new tools, approaches, and methods to pursue and facilitate innovation in climate change adaptation. Forum for Applied Research and Public Policy, 2001.

Communicating Climate Change Information for Decision-Making Silvia Serrao-Neumann, Anne Coudrain, Liese Coulter, 2018-03-20 This book provides important insight on a range of issues focused on three themes: what new climate change information is being developed; how that knowledge is communicated; and how it can be usefully applied across international, regional, and local scales. There is increasing international investment and interest to develop and communicate updated climate change information to promote effective action. As change accelerates and planetary boundaries are crossed this information becomes particularly relevant to guide decisions and support both proactive adaptation and mitigation strategies. Developing new information addresses innovations in producing interdisciplinary climate change knowledge and overcoming issues of data quality, access and availability. This book examines effective information systems to guide decision making for immediate and future action. Cases studies in developed and developing countries illustrate how climate change information promotes immediate and future actions across a range of sectors.

The Economic, Social and Political Elements of Climate Change Walter Leal Filho, 2010-11-23. A unique feature of this book is its strong practice oriented nature; it contains a wide range of papers dealing with the social, economic and political aspects of climate change, exemplifying the diversity of approaches to climate change management taking place all over the world in a way never seen before. In addition, the book describes a number of projects and other initiatives happening in Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin American and the Australasian region, providing a profile of the diversity of works taking place today.

Handbook on Planning and Climate Change Adaptation Patrick Brandful Cobbinah, Michael Addaney, 2025-08-11. Anthropology and Climate Change Susan A. Crate, Mark Nuttall, 2023-11-30. In this third edition of Anthropology and Climate Change, Susan Crate and Mark Nuttall offer a collection of chapters that examine how anthropologists work on climate change issues with their collaborators both in academic research and practicing contexts and discuss new developments in contributions to policy and adaptation at different scales. Building on the first edition's pioneering focus on anthropology's burgeoning contribution to climate change research, policy and action, as well as the second edition's focus on transformations and new directions for anthropological work on climate change, this new edition reveals the extent to which anthropologists' contributions are considered to be critical by climate scientists, policymakers, affected communities and other rights holders. Drawing on a range of ethnographic and policy issues, this book highlights the work of anthropologists in the full range of contexts, as scholars, educators and practitioners from academic institutions to government bodies, international science agencies and foundations working in interdisciplinary research teams and with community research partners. The contributions to this new edition showcase important new academic research as well as applied and practicing approaches. They emphasize human agency in the archaeological record, the rapid development in the last decade of community based and community driven research, and disaster research, provide rich ethnographic insight into worldmaking practices.

interventions and collaborations and discuss how and in what ways anthropologists work in policy areas and engage with regional and global assessments This new edition is essential for established scholars and for students in anthropology and a range of other disciplines including environmental studies as well as for practitioners who engage with anthropological studies of climate change in their work
