2003 Eddie Bauer Expedition Problems:

Species Problems and Beyond John S. Wilkins, Frank E. Zachos, Igor Ya. Pavlinov, 2022-06-14 Species Problems and Beyond offers a collection of up to date essays discussing from an interdisciplinary perspective the many ramifications of the Species Problem. The authors represent experts in the philosophy of biology in species level evolutionary investigations and in biodiversity studies and conservation. Some of the topics addressed concern the context sensitivity of the term species, species as individuals, processes, natural kinds, or as operative concepts, species delimitation in the age of Big genomic Data and taxonomic inflation and its consequences for conservation strategies. The carefully edited volume will be an invaluable resource for philosophers of biology and evolutionary biologists alike. Olivier Rieppel, Rowe Family Curator of Evolutionary Biology, Negaunee Integrative Research Center, Field Museum, USA. Species or the Species Problem is a topic in science, in the philosophy of science, and in general philosophy. In fact, it encompasses many aspects of the same problem, and these are dealt with in this volume. Species are often thought of as fundamental units of biological matter to be used in ecology, conservation, classification, and biodiversity. The chapters in this book present opposing views on the current philosophical and conceptual issues of the Species Problem in biology. Divided into four sections: Concepts and Theories, Practice and Methods, Ranks and Trees, and Names and Metaphysics, the book is authored by biologists, philosophers, and historians, many leaders in their fields. Topics include ontology of species, definitions of both species category and units, species rank, speciation, issues, nomenclature, ecology, and species conservation. Species Problems and Beyond aims to clarify the contemporary issues of the Species Problem. It is ideal for use in upper level seminars and courses in Evolutionary Biology, Philosophy of Science, Philosophy of Biology, Systematics and Taxonomy, and Phylogenetics, Cladistics, and for any scholar in these fields.

Lost Land of the Dodo Anthony Cheke, Julian P. Hume, 2010-06-30. The Mascarene islands in the southern Indian Ocean.

Mauritius Reunion and Rodrigues were once home to an extraordinary range of birds and reptiles. Evolving on these isolated volcanic islands in the absence of mammalian predators or competitors, the land was dominated by giant tortoises, parrots, skinks, and geckos. Burrowing boas, flightless rails, the birds, and tortoises were slaughtered indiscriminately while introduced rats, cats, pigs, and monkeys destroyed their eggs. The once extensive forests, logged and invasive introduced plants from all over the tropics, devastated the ecosystem. The now familiar icon of extinction, the Dodo, was gone from Mauritius within 50 years of human settlement, and over the next 150 years many of the Mascarenes, other native vertebrates, followed suit. The product of over 30 years' research by Anthony Cheke, Lost Land of the Dodo provides a comprehensive yet hugely enjoyable account of the story of the islands' changing ecology interspersed with human stories, the islands' biogeographical anomalies, and much else. Many French publications, old and new, especially for Reunion, are discussed and referenced in English for the first time. The book is richly illustrated with maps and contemporary illustrations of the animals and their environment, many of which have rarely been reprinted before. Illustrated box texts look in detail at each extinct vertebrate species, while Julian Hume's superb colour plates bring many of the extinct birds to life. Lost Land of the Dodo provides the definitive account of this tragic yet remarkable fauna and is a must read for anyone interested in islands, their ecology, and the history of our relationship with the world around us. Business Week, 2002 Verdictsearch California Reporter, 2003-05

Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975 Neuropsychology of Asians and Asian-Americans. J. Mark Davis, Rik Carl D'Amato, 2013-08-19. Neuropsychology with Asians and Asian Americans: Practical and Theoretical Considerations. J. Mark Davis and Rik Carl D'Amato, editors. The challenge of cultural competence for health providers is more than the recognition of other ethnicities; it entails the balancing of group and individual factors to apply relevant information in diagnostic and therapeutic settings. Particularly in need of culturally appropriate services are Asians and Asian Americans, populations that are diverse, growing, and underserved by Asian practitioners. Neuropsychology with Asians and Asian Americans takes cultural neuroscience to new levels in its variety and usefulness. Focusing on the largest groups of Far East and Southeast Asian descent, this leading edge reference examines the influence of culture on psychological processes and identifies sociocultural factors as they influence neurological aspects of client presentation. This expert coverage goes beyond well known constructs of collectivism and family orientation toward establishing an evidence base crucial to understanding, assessing, and treating Asian and Asian American clients, including linguistic factors and language assessment of Asians. Society and acculturation in Asian and Asian American communities. Mental illness from Asian and Asian American perspectives. Understanding cognitive differences across the lifespan, comparing Eastern and Western cultures. Clinical interviews and qualitative assessment with Asian clients. Neuropsychological test selection with Asian clients. Unique in its scope and detail, Neuropsychology with Asians and Asian Americans is a necessary resource for neuropsychologists and rehabilitation specialists as well as social workers and clinical counseling and school psychologists. Evolution and
