A romantic scene between a man and a woman, depicted in a painting style. The woman, with long dark hair and wearing a light blue dress and large earrings, is looking back over her shoulder at the man. The man, with short brown hair and wearing a dark suit over a light-colored shirt, is leaning in and kissing her on the cheek. His hand is resting on her waist. The background features a large, ornate painting of a landscape with trees and a body of water. In the bottom left corner, there is a small, dark, abstract object that looks like a sculpture or a piece of art.

sexual violence in poetry prose fiction and poetic drama in light of women's philosophical theoretical and critical responses to these works of literary art François Ravary SJ and a Sino-European Musical Culture in Nineteenth-Century Shanghai David Francis Urrows, 2021-09-23 This book reveals the story of François Ravary Jesuit missionary musician and organ builder. The mastermind behind the construction of the bamboo organs of nineteenth-century Shanghai, Ravary's unpublished letters from China present a vivid picture of the excitement and crises surrounding the Roman Catholic mission in the often violent integration of global space of this time. Focusing on an individual life, this study adds needed perspective to histories of the treaty port era. By shifting the inquiry towards a nuanced empirical and refocused evaluation of the landscape, Ravary is revealed as a humanist in the Christian tradition, curious about Chinese society and culture as well as the force behind China's first brass band, first school orchestra, and other landmarks of Sino-European musical convergence. This book is a must read for anyone interested in nineteenth-century China studies, cultural histories, and the diffusion of Western art practices.
