Many smart phone users reap the benefits of location based services. While tracking users' positions using their smart phone is an issue of concern for some, others who use Foursquare or rely on their Android GPS view location based services as a necessity. Ubiquitous Positioning and Mobile Location Based Services in Smart Phones explores new research in smart phones with an emphasis on positioning solutions in smart phones, smart phone based navigation applications, mobile geographical information systems, and related standards.

E-Business and Distributed Systems Handbook Amjad Umar, 2003-05. This module explains the growing number of Application Servers and their variants: Mobile Application Servers, Commerce Servers, B2B Servers, Multimedia and Collaboration Servers. This is one module of an extensive handbook that systematically discusses how to translate e-business strategies to working solutions by using the latest distributed computing technologies. The focus of this module of the handbook is on application servers that package several middleware and infrastructure services into a platform for development, deployment, and management of modern applications. Chapters of this module explain the principles of application servers and systematically discuss:

- a) Mobile Application Servers based on WAP, I Mode, J2ME, and others;
- b) Commerce Servers based on e-payment systems, electronic catalogs, XML, secure C2B trade;
- c) B2B Servers based on ebXML, Web Services, workflows, EDI, EAI;
- d) Multimedia and Collaboration Servers based on groupware, SMIL, and RTP; and
- e) Super Application Servers that combine numerous services needed for Web, mobile applications, and EC/EB applications on a single platform.

IBM's WebSphere is an example. Chapters of the module also include several real life examples and case studies to highlight practical applications. Additional information
