Ana Question Paper 2014:

International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties Annemarie Fritz, Vitor Geraldi Haase, Pekka Räsänen, 2019-01-30 This comprehensive volume provides teachers researchers and education professionals with cutting edge knowledge developed in the last decades by the educational behavioural and neurosciences integrating cognitive developmental and socioeconomic approaches to deal with the problems children face in learning mathematics The neurocognitive mechanisms and the cognitive processes underlying acquisition of arithmetic abilities and their significance for education have been the subject of intense research in the last few decades but the most part of this research has been conducted in non applied settings and there s still a deep discrepancy between the level of scientific knowledge and its implementation into actual educational settings Now it s time to bring the results from the laboratory to the classroom Apart from bringing the theoretical discussions to educational settings the volume presents a wide range of methods for early detection of children with risks in mathematics learning and strategies to develop effective interventions based on innovative cognitive test instruments It also provides insights to translate research knowledge into public policies in order to address socioeconomic issues And it does so from an international perspective dedicating a whole section to the cultural diversity of mathematics learning difficulties in different parts of the world All of this makes the International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties an essential tool for those involved in the daily struggle to prepare the future generations to succeed in the global knowledge society

Visualisation and Epistemological Access to Mathematics Education in Southern Africa Marc Schäfer, 2023-04-27 This book demonstrates that using visualisation processes in mathematics education can help to enhance teaching and learning and bridge the inequality gap that exists between well resourced and under resourced schools in Southern Africa Drawing on classroom research conducted in the Southern African region it examines how epistemological access in a context of gross inequality can be constructively addressed by providing research based solutions and recommendations The book outlines the visualisation process as an integral but often overlooked process of mathematics teaching and learning It goes beyond the traditional understanding of visualisation processes such as picture forming and using tools and considers visualisation processes that are semiotic in nature and includes actions such as gestures in combination with language It adds value to the visualisation in mathematics education research discourse and deliberation in Africa With a unique focus on Southern Africa and open avenues for further research and collaboration in the region it will be a highly relevant reading for researchers academics and post graduate students of mathematics education comparative education and social justice education ECRM2014-Proceedings of the 13th European Conference on Research Methodology for Business and Management Studies Dr Martin Rich, Dr Anne Brown, 2014-06-16

Democratic Evaluation and Democracy Donna Podems, 2017-02-01 Democratic evaluation brings a way of thinking about evaluation's role in society and in particular its role in strengthening social justice Yet the reality of applying it and what happens when it is applied particularly outside the West is unclear Set in South Africa a newly formed democracy in Southern Africa the book affords an in depth journey that immerses a reader into the realities of evaluation and its relation to democracy The book starts with the broader introductory chapters that set the scene for more detailed ones which bring thorough insights into national government local government and civil societies experience of evaluation democratic evaluation and their understanding of how it contributes to strengthening democracy or not A teaching case the book concludes by providing guiding questions that encourage reflection discussion and learning that ultimately aims to inform practice and theory
