

Question 3 (adapted from Horngren’s Cost Accounting: A Managerial Emphasis, 9th Canadian edition):

The Quality Chocolatess (Quality) uses a job-costing system with two direct cost categories: direct materials and direct manufacturing labour- abbreviated to DM and DL, respectively. It also has one manufacturing overhead cost pool, which they abbreviate to MOH.

Quality allocates its MOH using DL costs and provides you with the following information:

	Budget for the year	Actuals for the year
DM	$1,800,000	$1,740,000
DL	2,600,000	2,540,000
MOH	2,210,000	2,311,400

- 1. Compute the actual and budgeted manufacturing overhead rates for the year.
- 2. You were given the following information:
 - a. job A-13:
 - DM used: $48,000
 - DL: $27,000
 - Compute the cost of Job A-13 using (a) an actual-costing system and (b) a normal-costing system.
- 3. Compute under- or over-allocated MOH using Quality’s normal-costing system. Comment on your results and explain them. Would your results be different if actual costing was used? If not, why not? And if they would be different, explain why.

Integrated Power Of Management Control Systems In Japan Eri Yokota, 2025-04-11. The management control framework that originated in large scale manufacturing oriented industries has now expanded its scope in a variety of ways. It has expanded from a focus on manufacturing companies to service companies, non profit companies and so on. The target group for applying the framework has also broadened from managers to employees. The framework is also examined in terms of how it should be applied to promote sustainability in companies. In this book Japanese researchers discuss the situations in which management control, a tool born in Europe and the US is utilized in Japan. Specifically the book focuses on various types of management control systems from manufacturing companies, innovation companies, service companies to non profit companies and explains the characteristics of these systems based Japanese organizations. Readers of this book will understand how Japanese researchers are using the management control framework in the context of diversification and from there the application of the framework in Japanese organizations.

At the same time the intensity and the frequency of use of MAS increase too. Consequently the quality of the provided information is critical. The focus of this simulation study is twofold. On the one hand the impact of the sophistication of traditional costing systems on error propagation in the case of a set of input biases is investigated On the other hand the impact of single and multiple input biases on the quality of the information provided by traditional costing systems is focused In order to investigate the research questions a simulation approach is applied
