Multipolarity After Ukraine Aldo Ferrari, Eleonora Tafuro Ambrosetti, 2023-03-02 One year after the full scale invasion of Ukraine the war has exacerbated the rift between Russia and the collective West While Western governments have been steadfast in punishing Russia for the invasion other countries around the world have been more ambiguous at times even choosing to side with Moscow politically or economically These dynamics have revived the idea of a shift towards multipolarity along an anti Western trajectory Are we really heading in that direction Are we facing increasing fragmentation due to the war or a re consolidation of longstanding alliances What principles underlie the formation of these blocs What are the consequences of these dynamics for global security and the global economy This Report aims to shed light on these questions while also outlining the war s possible future implications for the Russian Federation the West and the international order

The Taste of Art Silvia Bottinelli, Margherita d'Ayala Valva, 2017-06-01 The Taste of Art offers a sample of scholarly essays that examine the role of food in Western contemporary art practices The contributors are scholars from a range of disciplines including art history philosophy film studies and history As a whole the volume illustrates how artists engage with food as matter and process in order to explore alternative aesthetic strategies and indicate countercultural shifts in society The collection opens by exploring the theoretical intersections of art and food food art s historical root in Futurism and the ways in which food carries gendered meaning in popular film Subsequent sections analyze the ways in which artists challenge mainstream ideas through food in a variety of scenarios Beginning from a focus on the body and subjectivity the authors zoom out to look at the domestic sphere and finally the public sphere Here are essays that study a range of artists including among others Filippo Tommaso Marinetti Daniel Spoerri Dieter Roth Joseph Beuys Al Ruppertsberg Alison Knowles Martha Rosler Robin Weltsch Vicki Hodgetts Paul McCarthy Luciano Fabro Carries Mae Weems Peter Fischli and David Weiss Janine Antoni El bieta Jab o ska Liza Lou Tom Marioni Rirkrit Tiravanija Michael Rakowitz and Natalie Jeremijenko

Sand and Gravel Spits Giovanni Randazzo, Derek W.T. Jackson, J. Andrew G. Cooper, 2015-04-16 This book draws together a series of studies of spit geomorphology and temporal evolution from around the world The volume offers some unique insights into how these landforms are examined scientifically and how we as humans impact them offering a global perspective on spit genesis and evolution Spits are unique natural environments whose evolution is linked to the adjacent coast and near shore morphology sediment supply coastal dynamics and sea level change Over the past century Global Mean Sea Level GMSL has risen by 10 to 20 centimetres and many coastal spits represent the first sentinel against coastal submersion Scientific research indicates that sea levels worldwide have been rising at a rate of 3 5 millimetres per year since the early 1990s roughly twice the average speed of the preceding 80 years This trend linked to global warming will undoubtedly cause major changes in spit morphology Spits are highly mobile coastal landforms that respond rapidly to environmental change They therefore represent a signature of past environmental change and provide a landform indicator of climate change

Critical Perspectives on Food Sovereignty Marc Edelman, 2017-10-02 This volume is a pioneering contribution to the study of food politics and critical agrarian studies where food sovereignty has emerged as a pivotal concept over the past few decades with a wide variety of social movements on the ground experiments and policy innovations flying under its broad banner Despite its large and growing popularity the history theoretical foundations and political program of food sovereignty have only occasionally received in depth analysis and critical scrutiny This collection brings together both longstanding scholars in critical agrarian studies such as Philip McMichael Bina Agarwal Henry Bernstein Jan Douwe van der Ploeg and Marc Edelman as well as a dynamic roster of early and mid career researchers The ultimate aim is to advance this important frontier of research and organizing and put food sovereignty on stronger footing as a mobilizing frame a policy objective and a plan of action for the human future This volume was published as part one of the special double issue celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Journal of Peasant Studies

Energy Security in Asia and Eurasia Mike M. Mochizuki, Deepa M. Ollapally, 2016-12-01 Many states appear to have strong sentiment on energy security and energy transit vulnerability Some analysts see the rapidly increasing demand for energy and competition for energy resources leading to nationalistic energy policies Others argue that global trends with efficient energy markets and growing options on renewables suggest more relaxed energy outlooks This book focuses on Asia where global demand for energy is now concentrated in the aspiring and rising powers of the region China India Japan and South Korea and also recognises the importance of Russia as a growing energy supplier Contributions by experts in the field provide detailed and parallel case studies Shedding light on the ongoing debate in the literature regarding energy outlooks of major Asian states they analyse whether energy policies are expected to evolve along market oriented cooperative lines or more competitive and even destructive mercantile nationalist lines The book argues that states are not unitary actors even in the key energy security arena and there are competing and contrasting viewpoints in Asian states on energy security It suggests that domestic debates structure thinking on energy security making energy policy more contingent than assumed by purely market or geopolitical logics Providing a strong contribution to comparative energy security studies the book fills an important gap in the literature on energy and national security and offers a basis for conducting further inter state interactive analysis It will be of interest to researchers on Asian Studies energy politics and international relations
