research on visual perception of advertising mostly considers print advertising. However, advertising messages increasingly appear in a variety of formats and in different media. Part of these messages are still conveyed through traditional media such as newspapers, magazines, television, as well as outdoor and supermarket advertising. In addition, the amount and diversity of visual marketing stimuli is rapidly growing in terms of different advertising formats appearing in online and social media, smartphones, and tablets. This challenges the marketing professionals and academics to better understand the impact of marketing on consumers. At the same time, the technical development of the research methods allows better opportunities to investigate advertising perception in different environments. Traditionally, papers investigating the psychological processes underlying advertising perception are published in journals widespread across different disciplines such as marketing, applied psychology, and human computer interaction journals. With this Research Topic, we aim to create a forum in which experts in different fields define the state of the art and future directions of the research on the visual aspects of marketing. We include reviews and original research papers involving both empirical and theoretical studies on visual perception of advertising across different media.

Introduction to Electronic Commerce and Social Commerce Efraim Turban, Judy Whiteside, David King, Jon Outland, 2017-04-23. This is a complete update of the best-selling undergraduate textbook on Electronic Commerce. EC New to this 4th Edition is the addition of material on Social Commerce, two chapters, a new tutorial on the major EC support technologies including cloud computing, RFID, and EDI, ten new learning outcomes, and video exercises added to most chapters. Wherever appropriate, material on Social Commerce has been added to existing chapters. Supplementary material includes an Instructor's Manual, Test Bank questions for each chapter, Powerpoint Lecture Notes, and a Companion Website that includes EC support technologies as well as online files. The book is organized into 12 chapters grouped into 6 parts. Part 1 is an Introduction to E-Commerce and E-Marketplaces. Part 2 focuses on EC Applications, while Part 3 looks at Emerging EC Platforms with two new chapters on Social Commerce and Enterprise Social Networks. Part 4 examines EC Support Services, and Part 5 looks at E-Commerce Strategy and Implementation. Part 6 is a collection of online tutorials on Launching Online Businesses and EC Projects with tutorials focusing on e-CRM, EC Technology, Business Intelligence, including Data Text and Web Mining, E-Collaboration, and Competition in Cyberspace. The following tutorials are not related to any specific chapter; they cover the essentials of EC technologies and provide a guide to relevant resources.

Dancing With The Dragon Mona Chung, Bruno Mascitelli, 2015-08-06. This book looks at a number of contemporary issues in relation to the current role China plays in trade investments, especially outward investments, a fairly new phenomenon in Australia, Africa, and Europe, three major strategic destinations for China. Through the Eurozone crisis, Chinese investments and migration into Europe, the authors paint a new picture of the world with China, the dragon, dancing in the centre of the stage with rotating dancing partners. They show a new perspective on the China-US relationship, especially through the case of Huawei, the new Chinese telecommunication giant who is consistently challenging the position of CISCO commercially and now politically This book adds another tool to the tool box of those who are aiming to continue dealing trading and working with China and the Chinese Sport Development in the United States Peter Smolianov,Dwight Zakus,Joseph Gallo,2014-09-15 The development of both elite high performance sport and mass participation grassroots level sport are central concerns for governments and sports governing bodies This important new study is the first to closely examine the challenges and opportunities for sports development in the United States a global sporting giant with a unique market driven sporting landscape Presenting an innovative model of integrated sports development the book explores the inter relationship between elite and mass sport across history drawing on comparative international examples from Australia to the former USSR and Eastern bloc countries At the heart of the book is an in depth empirical study of three traditional and emerging sports in the US tennis soccer and rugby that offer important lessons on the development of elite sport methods for increasing participation and the establishment of new sports in new markets No other book has attempted to model sports development in the United States in such depth before Therefore this should be essential reading for all students researchers administrators or policy makers with an interest in sports development sports management sports policy or comparative international sport studies The Public Economy in Crisis June A. Sekera,2016-07-04 This Brief proposes a new theory of public economics which deemphasizes reliance on the free market and affirms the importance of public goods and services within the context of the democratic process and constitutional governance Public non market production makes up from a quarter to more than half of all economic activity in advanced democratic nation states Yet by imposing market precepts on the public domain as mainstream economics political science and public administration do public governing capacity is weakened and the democratic system suffers Agencies originally created to meet public needs are being warped into entities whose purpose is to generate revenue and in some cases deliver private profits at public expense Drawing on classic public finance literature this book illustrates the differences between public economy and the market model and why those differences matter Building on this the Brief sketches the elements of a new theory of the public non market and illuminates its connections to the delegation of power and collective provision of resources from the polity This book will be useful to scholars of public economics political science and public administration as well as policy makers and those working in the public sector
