

"Animal Farm" by George Orwell

In 1946, George Orwell would author one of the most notorious and astute books of all time, a book titled Animal Farm. Animal Farm takes place on a farm led by a pig by the name of Old Major. When he describes his dream to the fellow animals on the farm, he encourages them to turn against the humans. Some days later, Old Major passes away and the animals revolt and take over the farm, renaming it Animal Farm. Through his novel, George Orwell tries to convey the significance of being educated and the tragedies that fall upon the uneducated animals of Animal Farm. These include putting their faith in the wrong hands, getting manipulated and controlled, not being able to make decisions for themselves and how it relates to the soviet union during this time. In the beginning, the pigs are seen as faithful to their fellow animals and to the revolution. They interpret Old Major's vision and end up turning it into the "Seven Commandments of Animalism". However, it isn't some time before the pigs' knowledge and instructions are used in oppression and mistreatment.

Following Old Major's passing, we see a major struggle between two characters: Snowball and Napoleon. Napoleon believed that an emphasis on the younger animals should be the focus of education. This is first exemplified in Chapter 2/3 when he takes 9 young dogs from their mother in order to train them. They later come back as Napoleon's "guards" and play a large role in his grab for power against snowball. Snowball, on the other hand, believed everyone is important and equal. Snowball was eventually chased off the farm by the dogs, giving Napoleon full control. Progressively, the pigs began to control education and started to brainwash the animals. For instance, the sheep were taught to say "Four legs good, two legs bad" at different times in the story.
