Question 1

11 points

Many do you think the profit margin for Anagene's cartridges has been fluctuating? Is likely attributable to the actual number of units of this cartridge changing, or because of the existing system they are using to calculate the cost?

The actual number of units of the cartridges that are sold changes. The company revised the estimated number of cartridges produced and revised the calculation of the costs per unit. This led to the estimated marginal costs to change. Fluctuating marginal costs will influence the pricing of quantity based on fluctuating production costs.
