15 Module For Mount Kenya University:

The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya Mulinge, Munyae M., Arasa, Josephine N., 2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya Rural Development Abstracts, 1995 The Responsibility to Protect and the International Criminal Court Serena Sharma, 2015-12-22 This book provides an account of how the responsibility to protect R2P and the International Criminal Court ICC were applied in Kenya In the aftermath of the disputed presidential election on 27 December 2007 Kenya descended into its worst crisis since independence The 2007/08 post election crisis in Kenya was among the first situations in which there was an appeal to both the responsibility to protect and a responsibility to prosecute Despite efforts to ensure compatibility between R2P and the ICC the two were far from coherent in this case as the measures designed to protect the population in Kenya undermined the efforts to prosecute perpetrators This book will highlight how the African Union sponsored mediation process effectively brought an end to eight weeks of bloodshed while simultaneously entrenching those involved in orchestrating the violence Having secured positions of power politicians bearing responsibility for the violence set out to block prosecutions at both the domestic and international levels eventually leading the cases against them to unravel As this book will reveal by utilising the machinery of the state as a shield against prosecution the Government of Kenya reverted to an approach to sovereignty that both R2P and the ICC were specifically designed to counteract This book will be of interest to students of the Responsibility to Protect humanitarian
