Human Insecurities in Southeast Asia Paul J. Carnegie, Victor T. King, Zawawi Ibrahim, 2016-08-30 This book is a collection of work by scholars currently pursuing research on human security and insecurities in Southeast Asia It deals with a set of insecurities that is not readily understood or measurable As such it conceptually locates the threats and impediments to human security within relationships of risk uncertainty safety and trust At the same time it presents a wide variety of investigations and approaches from both localized and regional perspectives By focusing on the human and relational dimensions of insecurities in Southeast Asia it highlights the ways in which vulnerable and precarious circumstances human insecurities are part of daily life for large numbers of people in Southeast Asia and are mainly beyond their immediate control Many of the situations people experience in Southeast Asia represent the real outcomes of a range of largely unacknowledged socio cultural economic transformations interlinked by local national regional and global forces factors and interests Woven from experience and observations of life at various sites in Southeast Asia the contributions in this volume give an internal and critical perspective to a complex and manifold issue They draw attention to a variety of the less than obvious threats to human security and show how perplexing those threats can be All of which underscores the significance of multidisciplinary approaches in rethinking and responding to the complex array of conditioning factors and interests underlying human insecurities in Southeast Asia
