The book provides a fresh and innovative interpretation of the new government of Zimbabwe led by Emmerson Mnangagwa, which emerged in late 2017 after the downfall of Robert Mugabe. It demonstrates the contradictory character of the Mnangagwa government involving both continuities and discontinuities in relation to Mugabe's regime. The temptation amongst Zimbabwean scholars has been to focus on the continuities and to dismiss the significance of any discontinuities, notably reform measures. This book adopts an alternative approach by identifying and focusing specifically on the existence of a formative project of the Mnangagwa's Second Republic, further analysing its political significance as well as risks and limitations. While doing so, the book covers topics such as reform measures, reconciliation, transitional justice, corruption, the media, agriculture, devolution, and the debt crisis, as well as health and education. Discussing the limitations of these different reform measures, the book highlights that any scholarly failure to identify the risks of the project leads to an incomplete understanding of what constitutes the Mnangagwa's Second Republic. The book appeals to students, scholars, and researchers of Zimbabwean and African studies, political science, and international relations, as well as policymakers interested in a better understanding of political reform processes. Education Statistics, 2001. Education Statistics Report, 2001. Born to learn African Union, Association for the Development of Education in Africa, Global Education Monitoring Report Team, 2022-10-20. The Palgrave Handbook of African Education and Indigenous Knowledge Jamaine M. Abidogun, Toyin Falola, 2020-06-02. This handbook explores the evolution of African education in historical perspectives as well as the development within its three systems: Indigenous, Islamic, and Western education models, and how African societies have maintained and changed their approaches to education within and across these systems. African education continues to find itself at once preserving its knowledge while integrating Islamic and Western aspects in order to compete within this global reality. Contributors take up issues and themes of the positioning, resistance, accommodation, and transformations of indigenous education in relationship to the introduction of Islamic and later Western education. Issues and themes raised acknowledge the contemporary development and positioning of indigenous education within African societies and provide understanding of how indigenous education works within individual societies and national frameworks as an essential part of African contemporary society.
