

Student Guide to Annotation

BEFORE YOU READ

1. Preview the text. Before starting to read, look through the material (s) and note text features like HEADINGS, bolded words, italicized words, charts, graphs, images, etc. Use this information to predict what the passage(s) will cover.
2. Know your purpose. Set a purpose for reading the materials before you begin.
3. Locate the driver (usually indicated by a dot) throughout the passage(s) and identify them using letters (A, B, C, D, etc.)
4. Number the paragraphs in each new section of the passage

(What? Before we begin, preview the text to get a general idea of what you will read. The dot at the end of the paragraph is a signal that you have reached the end of the paragraph. If there are more paragraphs, they will be numbered 1, 2, 3, etc. in the margin next to the paragraph you read.)

(After the first paragraph, you will see a section that will be numbered 1, 2, 3, etc. in the margin next to the paragraph you read.)

AS YOU READ

1. Circle words that are unfamiliar to you and either (A) define them in the margins or (B) replace them with a synonym you know and understand. Example: found that even though the job is simple
2. Use question marks to identify questions you may have as you read. Be sure to also write down your questions. This will ensure you can remember it when you have the opportunity to ask for clarification.
3. Use arrows to make comments, connections, revelations, etc. in the margins regarding key phrases and ideas within the passage(s).
4. Use exclamation marks to make note of anything that surprises or excites you. Then, make a brief note as to why in the margins.

(What? If something is new to you, write a comment about it. If something you read is interesting, exciting, you have a new idea, or something you are excited about, write a comment in the margins next to the paragraph you read.)

Tip and Trick for Highlighting Text

- Only highlight what you've reached the end of a paragraph. Stop and think about what you've read and take notes in the margin next to the paragraph you highlight.
- Don't forget to highlight the key phrases and ideas that are the most important in each paragraph. Try to avoid highlighting full sentences.
- Once you have reached the end of a section, look back over the highlighted words and phrases to ensure you have understood the important concepts before moving to the next section.

AFTER YOU READ

1. Summarize each section of reading in one or two sentences. This can be done in the margins beside each section heading. This will make it easy for you to remember the main ideas presented in each section of reading AND ensure that you understood what you read.
2. Ask clarifying questions about anything you have read if appropriate.

(What? If you have a question about something you have read, write it in the margin next to the paragraph you read.)
