Downey and Darling's Physiological Basis of Rehabilitation Medicine Erwin G. Gonzalez, Stanley J. Myers, John A. Downey, 2001. The third edition of this classic text provides a scientific basis for practicing rehabilitation medicine. You will gain a more complete understanding of how physical losses affect the overall function of the patient and how the human body adapts to and compensates for the stress produced by the original injury. Selected topics include adaptation and compensatory adjustments in patients with neurologic musculoskeletal and circulatory impairments.

The Omaha System Karen S. Martin, Nancy J. Scheet, 1992. A comprehensive presentation of the Omaha System, a patient problem classification system based on actual practice and research results. Developed by practicing nurses in community health care settings, this system is tested for reliability and validity and provides a basis for a total practice and recording system. The authors are the principal investigators on the seven-year federally funded project and present the material in a practical manner, making application easy.
