Innovating Counseling for Self- and Career Construction Jacobus Gideon (Kobus) Maree, 2020-06-29 This book sets out to provide context for innovating counseling for self and career construction It gives readers insight into the theory underlying an innovative integrative qualitative quantitative approach to career counseling Three key ideas recur throughout the book First the idea of not dispensing advice to people instead enabling them to advise themselves Second the idea of listening for instead of to people s stories to help them choose and construct careers and themselves and shape their career identities Third the idea of helping people connect what they know about themselves consciously with what they are aware of subconsciously The book confronts some of the main challenges posed by Work 4 0 on the workplace but also foreshadows the imminent advent of Work 5 0 It endeavors to promote career counselors ability to help people thrive at a time when many speculate that work itself is at risk occupational contexts no longer hold workers in the way they used to and the coronavirus pandemic is disrupting the workplace The National Skills Development Handbook 2007/8 ,200? Apprenticeship in a Globalised World Salim Akoojee, 2013 In April 2013 the International Network on Innovative Apprenticeship INAP hosted its fifth international conference in Johannesburg South Africa in co operation with the International Labor Organization ILO bringing together researchers policy makers and practitioners from 34 nations The title of the conference Apprenticeship in a Globalized World Premises Promises and Pitfalls points out the need for apprenticeship to deliver on its promise of workplace skills and for it to develop and change as world economies develop An international exchange of ideas among researchers from all over the world is necessary to identify cases of good practice and facilitate the transfer of knowledge and innovation also within the frame of informal apprenticeships This book a summary of the papers presented and discussed at the Johannesburg conference is split up equally into five key topics Introducing Apprenticeship Backgrounds Changes and Difficulties Enabling Learning Opportunities in Workplaces and Informal Contexts Competence Assessment and Development Managing Transitions from VET into the World of Work Curriculum Design Apprenticeships and National Qualification Frameworks Series Bildung und Arbeitswelt Vol 27 Low-Income Students, Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa Melanie Walker, Monica McLean, 2022-07-15 This book explores learning outcomes for low income rural and township youth at five South African universities The book is framed as a contribution to southern and Africa centred scholarship adapting Amartya Sen s capability approach and a framework of key concepts capabilities functionings context conversion factors poverty and agency to investigate opportunities and obstacles to achieved student outcomes This approach allows a reimagining of inclusive learning outcomes to encompass the multi dimensional value of a university education and a plurality of valued cognitive and non cognitive outcomes for students from low income backgrounds whose experiences are strongly shaped by hardship Based on capability theorising and student voices the book proposes for policy and practice a set of contextual higher education capability domains and corresponding functionings

orientated to more justice and more equality for each person to have the opportunities to be and to do what they have reason to value The book concludes that sufficient material resources are necessary to get into university and flourish while there the benefits of a university education should be rich and multi dimensional so that they can result in functionings in all areas of life as well as work and future study the inequalities and exclusion of the labour market and pathways to further study must be addressed by wider economic and social policies for inclusive learning outcomes to be meaningful and that universities ought to be doing more to enable black working class students to participate and succeed Low Income Students Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa makes an original contribution to capabilitarian scholarship conceptually in theorising a South based multi dimensional student well being higher education matrix and a rich reconceptualisation of learning outcomes as well as empirically by conducting rigorous longitudinal in depth mixed methods research on students lives and experiences in higher education in South Africa The audience for the book includes higher education researchers international capabilitarian scholars practitioners and policy makers Independent Nursing Practice with Clients M. the paradoxical contradiction between its potentiality and its preservation of power Telling Stories Differently Janet Condry, 2015-09-01 The aim of this book is to share a relatively loose collection of studies using digital storytelling as a pedagogical tool in Cape Peninsula University of Technology CPUT The book takes an informed social justice approach to teaching and learning at the heart of which is the exploration of DST as a practice of voice and agency Voice and agency are important in excavating and recovering subjugated identities and moving the concerns of those occupying subaltern spaces to the mainstream of teaching and learning Yet this discursive shift is not without inherent challenges Multi modal technologies are reflective of wider inequities in the so called technological divide Whilst this is a book about higher education there are important lessons for schooling On the one hand the book is a powerful demonstration of the potential of DST for enhancing learning in schools particularly in schools serving the poor and marginalised On the other hand improving teaching and learning in higher education through the creative use of technology is essential to overcome the learning challenges of those entering tertiary level institutions Resources in Education ,1994 Behind the Wireless Kate Murphy, 2016-04-28 Behind the Wireless tells the story of women at the BBC in the 1920s and 30s Broadcasting was brand new in Britain and the BBC developed without many of the overt discriminatory practices commonplace at the time Women were employed at all levels except the very top for instance as secretaries documentary makers advertising representatives and librarians Three women held Director level posts Hilda Matheson Director of Talks Mary Somerville Director of School Broadcasting and Isa Benzie Foreign Director Women also produced the programmes aimed at female listeners and brought women broadcasters to the microphone There was an ethos of equality and the chance to rise through the ranks from accounts clerk to accompanist But lurking behind the facade of modernity were hidden inequalities in recruitment pay and promotion and in 1932 a marriage bar was introduced Kate Murphy examines how and why the interwar BBC created new opportunities for women The Labour Gazette ,1964
